SPECIAL COLLECTION

FOREWORD

Enfolded in these pages lies the history of a great family — a large family working and pulling together in classes, dorms, athletics, and activities. A family with a common purpose in mind — to gain intellectually, socially, and spiritually.

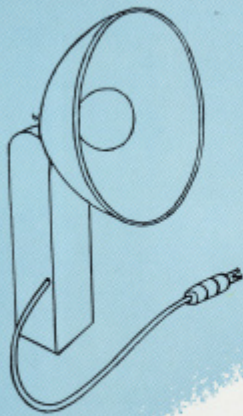

Photographers have been busy since last spring in trying to give the Sweecy family a full picture of what went on at Central during the 1956-57 school year through the use of photography.

The editor and staff of the 1957 Hyakem take great pride in presenting to you another "leaf" in the history of this great family, known as the "Sweecyites."

ADMINISTRATION

To you, the teachers of Central Washington College of Education, we hereby express our gratitude and appreciation for your high standards, your cheerful friendliness, and other fine qualities too numerous to mention here.

THE PRESIDENT SPEAKS

A yearbook serves as an accurate historical document. As one looks through its pages, people and events that have faded in his memory are revived. Many a time one looks into a Hyakem to find the picture of a college friend, a club, an event, an athletic team, or a professor.

This has been one of the greatest years in the history of the College and the Hyakem will reflect this. The enrollment exceeded the post-war veterans' bulge of 1949-50. The faculty and students are very busy. The calendar has been crowded with events. All of us, I am sure, are glad to have a record of this academic year in the Hyakem.

May I compliment the editor and his staff on the quality of this publication. It will be appreciated by all those who have had a part in the campus life.

I am glad to join the staff and the students in extending good wishes to the seniors who will be departing in June or August.

Dr. Robert E. McConnell
President

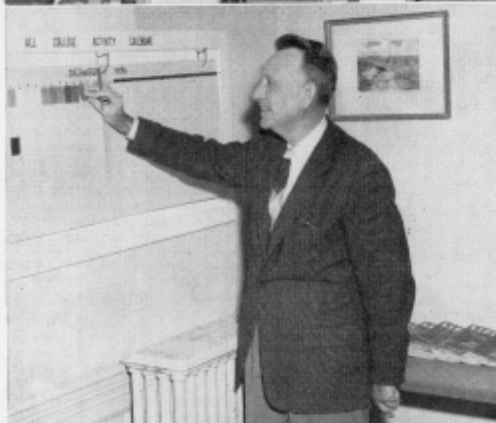

An inspiration to President McConnell is his wife, Alma . . .

Dr. Dean Stinson, Dean of Men

Dr. Ernest L. Muzzall, Director of Graduate Studies
Dr. Emil E. Samuelson, Dean of Students.
Mr. Edward B. Rogel, Director of Public Service.

An Administrator's Do

In the years to come, this annual will become more valuable as you reminisce about your college days—your friends, your activities, your professors, and your experiences. In some ways, you will remember the past four years as the happiest of your lives.

The world is in dire need of individuals with the character, intelligence, and integrity to provide the leadership which can make this old world of ours a better place to live in. If you have really acquired a college education and not just a degree, this leadership may be yours. Or if you have only completed a quarter or two, you will have gained by this experience.

Your achievements of the past four years should be the springboard to a richer and happier life.

My very best wishes go with you.

Dr. T. Dean Stinson
Dean of Men

Mrs. Annette H. Hitchcock, Dean of Women

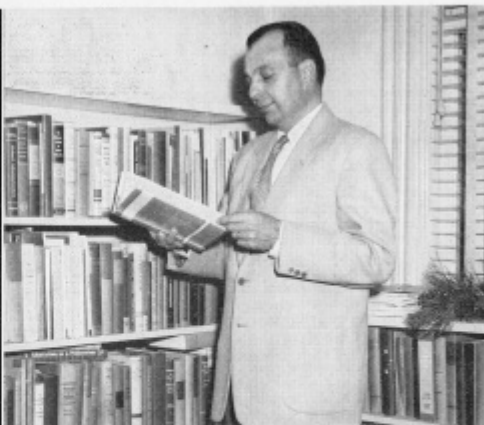

by Never Seems to End

Each year a relatively small group of students dedicate themselves to the task of collecting pictures and paragraphs of campus activities and personalities which constitute this Hyakem. One cannot browse through these pages and relive the experiences of the past year without feeling deeply grateful to the editor, Paul Lambertsen, and his loyal staff, and to their adviser, Mr. Slingland, all of whom gave so generously of their time and effort to make this yearbook a reality.

I hope that for each student who turns its pages, it will contain many happy memories of the fun and friendships which are so important in undergraduate life. I hope, too, that the past college year on our campus has brought each of you a rewarding personal growth.

To you, our graduating seniors, we extend our good wishes for success and happiness in your chosen vocations.

Mrs. Annette H. Hitchcock
Dean of Women

Dr. J. Wesley Crum, Dean of Instruction.
Mr. Perry H. Mitchell, Registrar.
Mr. Kenneth Courson, Business Manager.

The art classrooms occupy the hands of many students during and outside of class as they create new and interesting designs and pieces of work.

Stepped-on feet are not uncommon during dance classes held in the Girls' Gym as instruction is given for credit in physical education courses.

Private vocal and instrumental lessons are given daily by music instructors. Here Nancy Hayslip receives her weekly lesson from Wayne Hertz.

Home economics is an important field for many future homemakers and teachers. A common scene is the fitting of clothing to check the waistline.

After assignments are given the library finds hundreds of students using its resources day after day for study, research, and classes.

Designing and producing jewelry is a popular course for many students at Central. Many creative pieces and shapes of jewelry originate here.

CLASSES

To the classes, of which we are all a part, we hope to remember always the energetic freshmen, the busy sophomores, the ambitious juniors, and the graduating seniors.

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS

Nick Vanderstaay
 Larry Mayberry
 Ida Beth Ashburn
 Don Bolton
 Vic Olson

Senior classmen were ably led by Nick Vanderstaay, president; Larry Mayberry, vice-president; Beth Ashburn, secretary-treasurer; and Vic Olson and Don Bolton, social commissioners. The adviser for the class was Mr. Bruce Robinson.

There were 115 senior women and 207 men in education; while six women and ten men were in the field of arts and science.

Class activities consisted of actively participating in Homecoming by constructing an affective sign "Hi Grads". During spring quarter, they successfully held a class dance and the annual senior banquet at which time the graduates invited their parents to dine in a college atmosphere.

The long awaited day of graduation finally arrived June 2, when the seniors donned the traditional black caps and gowns and marched from the library to the auditorium, for the last time as seniors, to become alumni of CWCE—the alma mater of thousands since the 1890's.

Converting the Commons Dining Hall into a lovely ballroom was the big task of the year for the Juniors. November 9 will remain with many Central students as one of the most rememberable days of their lives. This is the night that Sammy Kaye and his band came to campus. Many hours of planning and decorating were given by cooperative class members to make the dance a huge success.

Jack Wilson was elected to lead the Juniors. Other class executives were Jerry Wenger, vice-president; Donna Nelson, secretary; Molly Clough, treasurer; and Blair Mortensen and Pat Kelleher, social commissioners. Miss Sarah Spurgeon was faculty adviser.

There were 340 Juniors enrolled fall quarter with the majority of these enrolled in the field of education. By the end of the year, many of these students had nearly completed their majors and minors. Their next big step lies but one year away.

Sophomore Class

Gerry Sorenson
 Norman Geer
 Sharon Hodges
 Sonja Zamzow
 Dianne Chapman
 Don Jacobs
 John Fuller

Many of the less popular class requirements being completed last year, the Sophomores branched out into their various chosen fields of study.

Some 320 students entered Central fall quarter; 259 of these in Education, 56 in Arts and Sciences, and the others in Pre-professional fields.

With one year of knowledge under the belt, the sophomores were determined to make this one of their biggest and best years. Class members elected at the beginning of the school year as their competent leaders, Gerry Sorenson, president; Norman Geer, vice-president; Sharon Hodges, secretary; Sonja Zamzow, treasurer; and Dianne Chapman and Don Jacobs, social commissioners. The outstanding and helpful class adviser was John Fuller.

Many hours were spent perfecting a Homecoming float and skit. Jazz concerts sponsored by the Sophomores added color and swing to the campus; and of course, when the Cupid's Informal came along, many class members turned out to lend a hand in decorating, planning, and clean-up to make this one of the outstanding dances of the year. Various activities during spring quarter helped to tie the class closer together and were of service to the campus.

Two of the best years of college are ahead. Best wishes for the best fulfillment of those years in terms of knowledge and fun.

From nearly every city in Washington and from numerous directions out of state came 694 Freshmen to make a try at college life. Many have succeeded and many have been lost along the way. But, we all agree that even one quarter of college is better than none.

Education was the chosen field of 511 students, Arts and Sciences of 128, and a Pre-professional curriculum was chosen by the remainder of the class.

Starting out the year with a bang, much new and interesting talent was displayed at the Freshmen stunt night performance. Then came Homecoming with the Freshmen working hard on their float and skit, which were well received by spectators. When the Dad's came to campus for Dad's Day, the Freshmen were on hand to sponsor a dance by carrying out the special day theme.

During spring quarter, the Freshmen were again on their toes sponsoring a mixer and other activities.

Much of the successful work of the class is due to the leadership of its officers Dick Milne, president; Dick Deane, vice-president; Judy Lyons, secretary; Charmaine DuMars, treasurer; Tam Trinterud and Dick Sanders, social commissioners; and Dr. Floyd Rodine, adviser.

ORGANIZATIONS

To the organizations, whose purposes and activities influence us greatly, we wish to show our grateful appreciation by our cooperation.

JACK LYBYER

It has been my pleasure to work with one of the finest SGA Councils Central has had.

Not all our goals were accomplished, but what resulted in our efforts to give the Sweezy Students a better Student Government has made a lasting impression on our student body.

It is the sincere desire of the Council that each succeeding governing body refines and improves upon what has been instigated this year. Our prayers and hopes go with them.

The Student Government Association Council joins with me in extending our very best wishes to the graduating seniors and may the future be generous to them.

Many thanks for the fine cooperation and help received from the administration, faculty, staff, and students. God bless and keep you.

Jack Lybyer
SGA President

JACK LYBYER HEADS SGA COUNCIL

With Jack Lybyer handling the gavel, the Student Government Association completed one of the most successful years in the history of the college. Dale Mitchell served as vice-president fall quarter, and John Draper took over the ropes for the remainder of the year. The loyalty and hard work of Shirley Willoughby, secretary, and Wayne Heisserman, social commissioner has been nothing but outstanding.

Backing the executive group has been a council composed of representatives from each living group. Every Monday night the group assembled in the SGA office to discuss campus problems and carry out business. These meetings often lasted late into the night before agreements could be reached and all of the business taken care of by the council.

Row 2: D. Blüher, L. Stevens, K. Baldwin, R. Nicoli, D. Hull, J. Yeager, B. Leth, L. Erland.

As you turn the pages of the Hyakem in the years to come, may it be a shining light of memories of the many experiences you have had at Central.

A.W.S. Council and I hope you have enjoyed planning and participating in the activities of the Associated Women Students. We wish to thank you, the administrators, faculty, and students, for making our year most successful.

To the Hyakem staff we wish to extend our sincere appreciation for this fine book of memories.

Best wishes to everyone for a very successful future.

Darlene Brown
A.W.S. President

DARLENE BROWN

AWS SPONSORS TOLO, MOTHER'S DAY

Making plans for the Snoball Tolo and the Mother's Day Week-end were the two main topics of business and interest to the Associated Women Students council.

Darlene Brown handled the duties of president, being assisted by Mary Moore, vice-president; Maralyn Mannie, secretary; Connie Nichols, treasurer; Donna Jinkens, social commissioner; and Diane Williams, courtesy chairman. Mrs. Annetto Hitchcock and Miss Mary Mathewson were faculty advisers.

December 1 was the date of the annual Snoball Tolo at which time the girls did a great job of planning and decorating. When the mothers came to campus over Mother's Day Week-end the girls really made all mothers feel at home with a banquet, style show, reception, and other festivities.

HONOR COUNCIL

C. Saas, D. Barich, J. Lybyer, D. Williams, D. Divelbiss, R. Frye, C. Winney.

INTER-CLUB COUNCIL

Wayne Heisserman, SGA social commissioner, presided over the Inter-Club Council meetings held every other week or so in the West Room of Kamola. Robin Bedard served as secretary. Representatives from each organization and living group on campus were represented on the ICC membership list.

Campus activities and social functions were discussed, and arranged by ICC. A big task is the arranging of the social calendar printed each quarter.

HONOR COUNCIL

Each year three men and three women are elected by the student body. It is their responsibility to handle any problems which may be hazardous to the welfare of the college. Problems dealing with misconduct, drinking, speeding, etc., are discussed by the council members each week.

The group served as a court in several cases during the past year, questioning students involved or connected with any of the above problems.

STUDENT-FACULTY PLANNING, COORDINATING BOARD

With students and faculty members working together, and expressing their ideas co-operatively many problems are ironed out. The group met regularly during the past year, hearing other students' and faculty members' viewpoints and problems.

The one main objective the group has kept in mind is to promote better relationships between all students and faculty members on campus.

UNION BOARD

Satisfying the students' needs and desires is a part of the duties carried out by the Union Board. The dean of men, the dean of women, the CUB manager, a faculty member at large, and four student representatives, make up the board.

Meeting regularly, the group discussed problems and made plans for new activities to be conducted in the CUB.

ELECTION COMMITTEE

S. Willoughby, D. Fitzgerald, M. Shaver, J. Strugar, S. Street.

DINING HALL COMMITTEE

Regularly scheduled dinner meetings were held in the Commons for the Dining Hall Committee to get together and discuss problems relating to the dining halls and dormitories. Kenneth Courson, business manager, served as chairman of the group and Miss Gaynell Johnson, dietitian, was faculty adviser.

ELECTION COMMITTEE

Planning and administering the major elections on campus was the task of the Election Committee headed by Shirley Willoughby, SGA secretary. A new policy, that of primary elections, made more work for the committee in setting up for the elections and counting ballots, but student interest climbed considerably.

CUB RECREATION COMMITTEE

Planning new and interesting activities for the Student Union was a challenging and difficult task for the CUB Recreation Committee. Joy Barsotti was chairman of the group which did a good part in trying to build more interest in students to use the CUB in a variety of activities on week-ends and during the week.

FINANCE COMMITTEE

Handling thousands and thousands of dollars would give the SGA vice-president a headache without the aid of the Finance Committee members who help budget the money and make decisions on expenditures not included in the budget. Dale Mitchell was chairman of the group fall quarter, and John Draper, for the remainder of the year.

FUTURE TEACHERS OF AMERICA...CENTRAL'S

Hosting delegates from a number of colleges throughout the state at the State Future Teachers of America convention was the main project of the local FTA chapter.

Spring quarter, more than 200 delegates attended the convention to carry out business, elect new state officers, and hold discussions.

This was just one of the many projects sponsored by the local group. Fall quarter saw Harley Brumbaugh and Dave Perkins making a howling success on stage to cope first place honors in the skit division at Homecoming. An attractive sign adorned the lawn in front of the library. The traditional sale of homecoming buttons was again sponsored by FTA.

A committee met weekly winter and spring quarters to evaluate the education program at Central and to make recommendations to a faculty committee regarding possible alterations in the curriculum.

LARGEST ORGANIZATION HOSTS CONVENTION

Regional conventions were held fall and winter quarters, at each time more than 20 Central FTA members journeyed to other colleges to participate. Other state educational and regional conventions found Central students in attendance.

Other officers were Bill Raschkow, vice-president; Carolyn Todd, recording secretary; Shirley Aurstad, corresponding secretary; Dave Perkins, treasurer; Caroline Reuther, librarian; Laura St. George, historian; Sandra Cox and Don Standley, social commissioners; and Marjorie Gilkison, reporter. Dr. A. Hamilton Howard and Miss Ada Shockley served as advisers.

Larry Bowen, Central student, served as state FTA president and national second vice-president during the past school year.

An Education Evaluation Committee met weekly winter quarter to make recommendations to the Education Division. Committee members were Molly Clough, Laura St. George, Shirley Aurstad, Paul Lambertsen, Bill Raschkow, Bob Feuchter, Deloris Shrabie, and Betty Schultz.

Kappa Delta Pi Initiates Honor Students

With Dan Organ leading the meetings, the Delta Omicron Chapter of Kappa Delta Pi, national education honorary, held regular educational meetings in addition to their other activities.

Topics relating to Kadelpians, leadership, teaching, and other educational aspects were discussed by the group.

Formal initiations were held in December and April at which times new pledges were welcomed into KDP on the basis of scholarship, activities, and leadership in the field of education.

Other officers of the coveted honorary were Frances Richards, vice-president; Carole Dallman, secretary; Joan Pierce, treasurer; and Carla Libby, historian.

Miss Mary Simpson served as faculty adviser.

Impressive ceremonies are held twice yearly for the new members initiated into Kappa Delta Pi. Only members are permitted to attend the activity which takes place in the Faculty Lounge.

Sigma Mu Epsilon Sponsors Recitals

Sigma Mu Epsilon, in its twenty-first year on this campus, is a nationwide music honorary, open to music majors and minors, who are selected on the basis of musical experience, scholarship, and interest in the music department.

Officers for this year were: Ed Sand, president; Harley Brumbaugh, vice-president; Leila Dildine, secretary; Wayne Calkins, treasurer; Beverly Morris, historian. Miss Juanita Davies was adviser for the group.

Once again, Sigma Mu sponsored the inter-dorm choral competition at Christmas time. Other activities included the Homecoming alumni breakfast, and helping to publicize the Community Concerts.

Student and faculty recitals were held frequently each month and Sigma Mu helped to further attendance at these and the spring senior recitals.

Janice Schwartz accompanies Phyllis Reynolds at one of the many student recitals held on campus throughout the year. Sigma Mu members help with these concerts where talent is displayed.

Spurs, Busiest Girls on Campus

"We need some help for this — let's call the Spurs." This is a familiar phrase on Central's campus for the girls in white. The Spurs, a sophomore girls honorary service organization, are willing and ready to aid any organization on campus. They begin work with the incoming frosh, and end it with the graduation exercises.

Spurs may be seen many places offering their services, correcting entrance tests, ushering at assemblies, and helping at the Mothers' Day Tea. The busy gals also work in the Union selling dance programs or registering people for campus meetings. They helped with the X-ray unit and the Blood Drive.

There is always work for the Spurs to do, and under the organization of Janice Kanenwisher, president; Sandra Cox, vice-president; Twylla Gibb, secretary; Sonja Zamzow, treasurer; Dorothy Heint, historian; and Virginia Valli, editor; the group has rendered their services wherever and whenever needed.

Mrs. Helen McCabe, adviser, has done much to aid the group in their many activities.

Childhood days and garb were brought back to life during homecoming by Spur members A. Spence, M. Luce, R. Phillips, S. Cox, J. Ketchkoe, D. Rose, M. Gilkison, I. Marinsic, G. Weston, K. Cole, and the other Spur members.

Alpha Phi Omega Sponsors Annual Dance

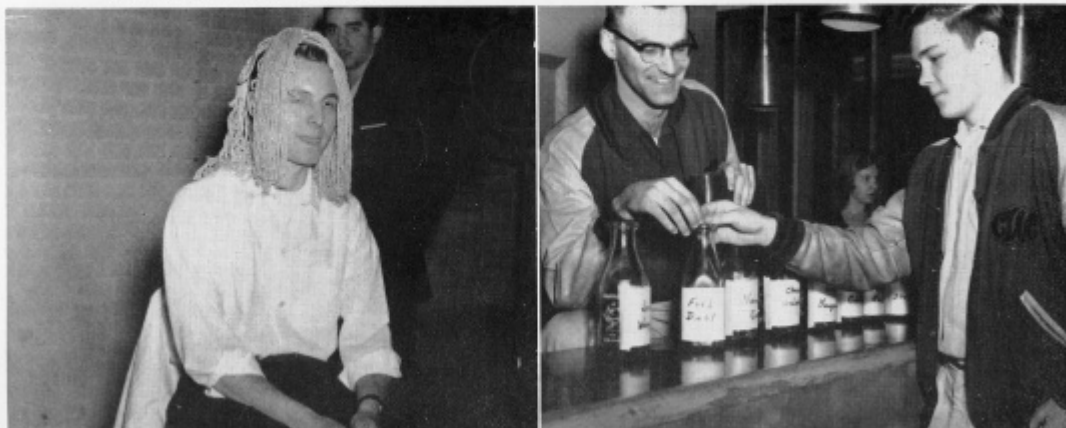

Featuring the annual Handsome Harry Dance, February 16, was a highlight of the year for the Alpha Phi Omega chapter. Elections were held for the "Handsome Harry" of the campus and, as in the past, he was honored at this dance.

When high school students arrived for Senior Day, APO members provided transportation to and from the bus and train depots for many seniors.

A court of honor was established spring quarter and the members helped build tent platforms for a scouting group.

Officers were Mike Lacey, president; Joe Venera and Tom Newell, vice-presidents; Bill Raschkow, secretary; Don Ball, treasurer; and John Moawad, historian. Dr. E. E. Samuelson advised the former scouts.

A mop served as a crown for Fred Dahl, named "Handsome Harry" during the APO dance held in February. Fred was elected during a contest in the CUB previous to the dance. Tom Newell handles the contest here as Larry Sundholm votes for his choice.

Herodoteans—Campus' Oldest Organization

Holding the distinction of being the oldest organization on campus is the Herodoteans, a history and social studies honorary.

Dan Organ, president, was assisted in carrying out the group's various activities and projects by Deane Brotherton, vice-president; Loree Sliffe, secretary; and Katie Mousel, treasurer. Dr. Sam Mohler and Dr. Harold Barto were the right-hand faculty members.

Being a group which likes to eat, the Herodoteans got together for their annual waffle breakfast and again for a beanfeed during the year.

The second place homecoming sign was erected by this group. Initiation ceremonies for new members provided entertainment for all members.

Speakers and forums were sponsored at the regular meetings throughout the year.

Geography Majors Join Whitbeck-Shaw

For students interested in geography, Whitbeck-Shaw provided a social means of learning more about the earth, its terrain, climate, and sights.

Monthly speakers appeared at the Whitbeck-Shaw Club meetings and presented slides, giving additional information about interesting places throughout the world.

Ted Cook presided over the organization which was organized in 1935 and named for Ray Hughes Whitbeck, University of Wisconsin professor, and the late Dr. Reginald Shaw of Central. Other officers were Jerry Yeager, vice-president; and Roberta Pickering, secretary-treasurer.

Dr. Robert Funderburk and Mr. Martin Kaatz served another year as the capable and informative faculty advisers.

Rainbow Girls Join Sigma Tau Alpha

Former Rainbow Girls from all over the state and out of state are reunited into an honorary at Central by which they can keep their interest in Rainbow activities and assist chapters.

Sigma Tau Alpha, a service organization, meets regularly to discuss business and to talk about old times as Rainbow girls.

President Roberta Pickering found many freshmen lining up for initiation, a solemn, but spectacular event, held each year.

Other officers included Janice Kanenwisher, vice-president; Ina Callaway and Bessie Chambers, secretaries; Laura Columbo, treasurer; Charlotte Satterstrom, chaplain; Dolores Mueller, musician; Charmaine DuMars, publicity chairman and Donna Rose, social commissioner.

Assisting the girls was Mrs. Elinor Fisher.

Psychology Club Organizes on Campus

A new name appearing among the list of organizations on campus is that of the Psychology Club, organized last spring. Students interested in psychology meet regularly to view films or hear guest speakers discuss various aspects of human behavior.

Winter quarter the Psych Club members successfully carried out the "Welcome Back" mixer held in the Men's Gym. Believe it or not, no psychoanalyzing was done by the members as to why partners pair off.

The psychologists were led by Don Lewis, president; Jama Goodman, secretary; and Steve Spitzer, treasurer. Floyd Ellingson and Rich Ozanich were members of the Executive Board which helped organize the group and made meeting plans.

Dr. Eldon Jacobsen, as faculty adviser, kept interest high in the group.

Neil Wallace was one of the first advanced ROTC cadets to receive flight training at Central offered for the first time winter quarter. Here Neil waits to take for the air in the one-engine plane.

Arnold Air Society Sponsors Military Ball

Flight training came to the advanced cadets at Central during winter quarter, a real thrill to many of the Arnold Air Society members.

March 2 the Society members sponsored their annual Military Ball, one of the largest social events of the year.

A lounge was established in the ROTC building for the benefit of the cadets who like to relax. The carpenters and designers also entered a float in the homecoming parade.

Spring quarter some of the members were sent to the Arnold Air Society conclave in New York representing the Central unit.

John Liboky served as commander of the unit. Other leaders were Eldon Peterson, adjutant recorder; William Tucker, treasurer; Ed Faust, co-treasurer; Ross Simmons, executive; Don Fujimoto, operations; and Pat McNeil, I.S.O. Major Schwendiman is adviser.

Sabre Flight Serves Campus and Community

The Sabre Air Command, under the able leadership of George Winkelseth, Commander; Kay Kabato, Executive Officer; Don Jacobs, Adjutant; Dennis Ross, Comptroller; Fred Bittner, Operations Officer; Norm Geer, Public Relations Officer; and Major Wilford Kunz, adviser; had planned for this year a varied and interesting, as well as educational and serviceable group of activities.

Among these were the banquet the night of the military ball; the furnishing of a color guard for surrounding high schools for games and Homecomings; an educational program for member cadets, so that they will be in full knowledge of all types of duties of the officers on the cadet program, the instructors, and the supply officers; service activity to the community of Ellensburg; field trips for member cadets only; and the sponsoring of two delegates to New York, National Conclave. The men sponsored were Don Jacobs and George Winkelseth.

Crimson "W" Headed by Wood

Muscles flexed and bones creaked and cracked as the Crimson W Club sponsored their annual smoker. Amateur and comedy acts provided much entertainment for the public.

Homecoming football programs were sold by the club members. At many of the football and basketball games, patrols were furnished by the W Club to keep spectators in hand.

Varsity lettermen and their dates were honored at the annual banquet, and during spring quarter the W Club, like several other groups on campus, ventured to Swauk for a picnic and day of fun.

Leading the group, whose purpose is to unite the varsity lettermen of Central and to render services to the college and to the student body, was Glenn Wood, president. Assistants were George Argelan, vice-president; Larry Downey, secretary; Remo Nicoli, social commissioner; and Cliff Wolfsehr, adviser.

Much planning for events throughout the year was done by W Club members. Here is one of the committees talking over what is to happen—G. Brame, B. Snaza, J. Thrasher, standing. Seated are G. Wood, E. Hardenbrook, L. Downey, and R. Nicoli.

Enthusiasm Created by Pep Club

With lots of pep and vitality the Pep Club started out the fall quarter with a pom-pom sale and by making a sign for the Homecoming festivities.

At that time the officers were Dianne Chapman, president; Nellie Punch, vice-president; Shirley Gale, secretary; Susie Oser, treasurer; and Gay Bottenberg, social commissioner.

When World University Service Week came around the Pep Club members carried out a project in the CUB. A pedal-pusher hop sponsored by the girls drew a big crowd and a variety of pedal pushers.

Winter quarter, Shirley Gale became the new president, and Judy Miller took her place as secretary. The goal of the group was to create more enthusiasm and interest toward activities in general.

Homecoming Float Honors Go To Kappa Pi

Artistic hands and minds were put together to produce the first prize winning Homecoming float for the Kappa Pi Art Honorary. Other artistic ability and talent was displayed throughout the year in displays presented in the Administration Building and in other spots around campus.

Although a rather small group, the Kappa Pi members presented an outstanding Art Bazaar again this year and held their annual Homecoming Breakfast fall quarter. Interesting slides and speakers were presented at meetings throughout the school year. Spring quarter the artists enjoyed trips to Yakima and Seattle for art shows.

Joe Wilcoxson held the master painter's brush as president. Others around the easel were Nancie Dunn, secretary-treasurer; Patrick Maher, social commissioner; and Frank Bach, adviser.

Nancie Dunn does her part as a Kappa Pi member in keeping the fourth floor Administration Building corridor looking neat and attractively decorated. The annual art bazaar drew many students and adults in to view projects for sale.

Maskers and Jesters Led by Short

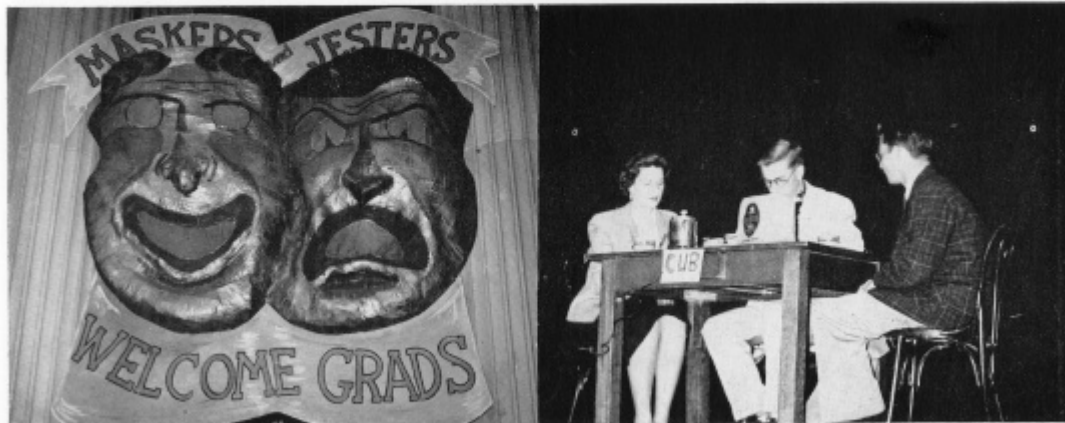

Interest was high in the Maskers and Jesters Club at the beginning of the school year when the members took part in Homecoming with a sign and a skit. Their sign, a large double mask design, attracted much attention from its perch on the auditorium porch. "Sweezy on the Air" was the title of their skit.

Master Masker for the year was Denis Short. Minor Masker was Dean Tarrach and Pen Masker was Sharon Saeger. Norman Howell and Milo Smith served as faculty advisers.

To further dramatics on campus was the main objective of the group throughout the year. They seriously considered becoming members of the National Collegiate Players, with the thought in mind that it would not only help the Maskers and Jesters but the campus as a whole.

Membership is based on participation on stage or behind the scenes in dramatic productions on campus.

Homecoming activities were well participated in by Maskers and Jesters members. Their original sign was well received and their skit drew out many snickers and laughs from spectators during the homecoming festivities.

Home Ec. Club Sells Homecoming Corsages

Co-eds skilled in cooking, sewing, and the other household chores, also showed their salesmanship skill during Homecoming by selling corsages. This group, more commonly known as the Home Ec. Club, also swelled their treasury by preparing yummy cookies for organizations on campus who purchased them.

New members were initiated into the organization in December during impressive candle-light ceremonies. To honor the graduating senior girls in the club, a breakfast was held spring quarter.

Again the club sent representatives to the State Home Ec. Club meeting held spring quarter.

Officers of the Home Ec. Club are Joan Pierce, president; Donna Cavadini, vice-president; Roberta Pickering, secretary; Ann Cusworth, treasurer; and Jolene Wilcoxen and Carole Dallman, co-catering chairmen. Miss Jeannette Ware is adviser.

S. Harris, S. Davis, and B. Chambers symbolize the purpose of the Home Ec. Club—to make better homemakers, teachers, and extension workers.

Industrial Arts Club Serves Campus

The Industrial Arts Club is an affiliate of the American Industrial Arts Association and was organized on the CWCE campus in 1949. Its members are majors and minors in industrial arts. One of the main purposes of this organization is to stimulate an interest and concern in the professional aspects of industrial arts teaching.

The IA Club performs various services on the campus. Several professional and social activities were arranged during the past year, including a program by Mr. Wilhelm Bakke describing his summer trip to Norway. A spring banquet and picnic are held each year.

Officers are Ron Frye, president; John Liboky, vice-president; Fred Kiser, secretary; Lowell Erland, treasurer; and Ross Powell, ICC representative. George Sogge and Wilhelm Bakke are the advisers.

Ed Woodiwiss, Dave Tresky, and Bill Bergama gather around the concession stand sponsored by the Industrial Arts Club at one of the basketball games. Selling refreshments helped the group build up their finances and filled hungry midsections.

Outdoor Club held many activities during the year. During winter quarter, however, skiing was probably the most prominent sport for club members who often headed for the hills to coast down the slopes.

Outdoor Club Members Hold Many Activities

The Outdoor Club under the direction of Neil Wallace, president; Jan Norling, vice-president; Muriel Rademiller, secretary; Nancy Bogart, treasurer; Forest Robinson, adviser; Don Ball, transportation chairman; Barbara Harpster, Cathy Carstairs, Marty Fosnacht, and Gail Baldwin, publicity chairmen; and Gary LaChance, photographer; have held many and varied activities.

A hike to Coleman Falls and a pre-game Christmas party united the members closer together fall quarter, as did the work the group did on their homecoming sign.

Winter quarter there was a barn dance and sleigh ride, the Snoqualmie ski day, and an overnight party at Swauk Lodge.

With the nice spring weather, the members headed to Lake Chelan for a barbeque, went on several hikes and mountain climbing practice excursions, and took an overnight hiking trip to get away from the campus for some relaxation.

Job Opportunities Sought by REC Club

Investigating the recreational facilities throughout the Northwest, reporting on the job opportunities in recreational programs on the West Coast, inquiring about summer jobs for members of the Recreation Club, and inviting recreational representatives to the campus to interview club members for prospective jobs were some of the many activities of the Recreation Club.

In addition to these activities the Recreation Club sponsored mixers and sent a representative to the National Recreation Convention to represent Central.

Hugh Glover kept the club batting 1.000 percent as president. Also in there pitching for an outstanding organization with a lot of spirit were Dick Wilson, vice-president; Maralyn Mannie, secretary; Beverly Crumpacker, treasurer; Ernie Thies and George Osborne, social commissioners.

Managing the group was Warren Tappin, adviser.

Recreational activities are an important part of a college girl's life the Phremms believe. Whether on the sidelines or playing, the girls build sportsmanship and team spirit along with instructors Miss Flower and Miss Badorek.

PHREMMS Hear Speakers, Wash Cars

Skirts and books were exchanged for jeans and sponges when the PHREMMS turned out for their annual car wash fall quarter. Within a matter of a few minutes, the dirtiest car in town glistened.

PHREMMS, a professional organization for all women physical, health, and recreation education majors and minors, was headed by Carol Garinger, president; Janet Homer, vice-president; Rosella Phillips, secretary; Pat Lacey, treasurer; Marjorie Sweet, publicity chairman; and Mrs. Alyce Cheska, adviser.

White caps were donned and refreshments carried through the stands at the Homecoming football game by the girls to help increase the debits in their banking account.

Meetings throughout the year featured such entertainment as a speaker from the state institutions at Buckley, films on skiing, and talks from some of the students returning from student teaching.

WRA Sponsors Car Wash, Intramurals

A wet, but gay session was held when the Women's Recreation Association girls turned out with rags and hoses to clean and polish cars during their car wash fall quarter.

Sporting events at their best were displayed during fall and winter quarters when living group competitors took to the maples for spiking the volleyball and bucketing basketballs. Spring quarter the energetic sports-talented girls turned out for softball and tennis competition. Many fellows were embarrassed of their own skills after observing a session or two with the girls starring.

The officers of the organization were Beverly Crumpacker, president; Nadine Fallis, vice-president and treasurer; Carol Garinger, secretary; Marilyn Taylor, social commissioner; Pat Callahan, fall sports manager; Marjorie Sweet, winter sports manager; Pat Lacey, spring sports manager; and Miss Badorek, adviser. Publicity chairman for fall quarter was Sharon Hodges; winter quarter, Nancy Kirk; and spring quarter, Jacky Mantel.

Cottons and levis are in order when the Do-Si-Do club members meet each week to step to the peppy music of folk and square dances in the Women's gymnasium. Jack Garvin's calling keeps one square of dancers jumping here.

Do-Si-Do Members Folk Dance Weekly

Full-flared cottons for the gals and levis for the fellows is the appropriate attire for the Do-Si-Do members who meet weekly to dance the popular old time square and folk dances. The girls' gym in the administration building becomes a real house of fun for the club members each Thursday night from 7 to 8 p.m.

Persons responsible for most of the fun at the meetings throughout the year were Ray Hilts and Jack Garvin, callers. Other people who helped make Do-Si-Do an even more active group were Don Sorenson, president; Ray Hilts, vice-president; Sylvia Larrigan, secretary-treasurer; and Jan Ittner, publicity chairman.

A Valentine party was held to unite hearts with dancing during winter quarter. Western-style decorations and attire was in order for the all-college dance sponsored by the group. During the spring quarter, an all-college hayride was held by the dancers.

International-Relations Club Sponsors MUN

Planning and venturing to the Model United Nations convention at Stanford University, Palo Alto, California, in April was the big event of the year for the International Relations Club members. IRC members gave up many hours to learn more about governmental problems of Hungary, the country the Central delegation represented on the Model UN board.

With Don Robertson handling the president's chores, IRC spent a prosperous year in terms of learning more about politics and government. Other officers are Paul McCulloh, vice-president; Dolores Mueller, secretary; and Mike Austin, treasurer. Dr. Elwyn Odell served another year as the faithful and outstanding faculty adviser.

With a wide variety of speakers this club offered many students a broader understanding of issues and events that are happening in the world today.

Science Students Form New Organization

Science majors and minors grouped together to form what is known as the Science Club and to produce qualities of leadership in more students. Although comparatively new on campus, their activities have been numerous and varied.

During fall and winter quarters films were shown about the atomic bomb, talks and films were given about dentistry and medical schools and what is expected of their students. Spring quarter they continued their program by having guest speakers talking on various vocations, seeing films, and finding out what employers are interested in when employing science and math majors and minors.

Science Day activities found the Science Club members actively engaging their services to hundreds of students and townspeople visiting the campus.

Ted Cook headed the group, being assisted by Don Hornbeck, vice-president; Ted Wood, secretary; and Don Lehr, treasurer; their goal was to stimulate interest in science and mathematics.

Students majoring or minoring in science were welcomed and encouraged to join the Science Club which sponsored speakers, films, and interesting programs at its meetings.

Central's Women Students Hold Picnic, Banquet

Meeting monthly is an organization known as the Central's Women Students. This group provides a fellowship for the co-eds on campus who are continuing their education after being out of school for a few years.

Central's Women Students is under the leadership of Betty Schultz, president; Dorothy McPhillips, vice-president; Barbara Smith, secretary-treasurer; and Miss Mabel Anderson, adviser.

Although fairly new to the campus, they are an up-and-coming organization, as shown by their increased membership and activities. Speakers or entertainment was featured at each meeting and refreshments were served.

Homemade tasties filled picnic baskets spring quarter when the co-eds went on their annual picnic. A highlight of the year was the annual spring banquet held in May.

An Alumnae group of past members has been organized. Each year the alumnae members offer a scholarship to a deserving CWS member.

Refreshments were frequently served to Central's Women Students members following their monthly meetings in the College Elementary School. Lots of delicious food was always on hand.

Young Demos Sponsor "Get Out and Vote" Dance

"Get Out and Vote" was the theme of the Young Democrats dance fall quarter to encourage students who were eligible to vote in the national elections. Their only hope was that no one vote for their opponents. Before the elections, the Young Democrats passed out literature around campus informing students and faculty members of candidates running for officers.

A debate was held with the other political group on campus (the name not mentioned by good Democrats) during fall quarter after the Young Demos had successfully placed an entry in the Homecoming parade.

Claude Acree presided over the house of members, being aided by Kenneth Tauscher, vice-president; Betty Allender, secretary; Barbara Weitz, treasurer; Jim Miller and Leon Stevens, social commissioners; Barbara Shinn, historian; and Ruby Fair, advertiser. Dr. Elwyn Odell and Dr. Floyd Rodise advised the members.

Visiting the legislature in Olympia was the highlight of winter quarter, in addition to participating in WUS Week, sponsoring a mixer, and planning for a workshop, which was carried out spring quarter.

Attending legislature sessions in Olympia were L. Griffith, T. Griffith, E. Puhr, L. Johnson, J. Kemp, D. Mesajednik, K. Tauscher, B. Weitz, C. Acree, Gov. Rosellini (who posed with the group), B. Allender, L. Stevens, E. Odell, J. Venera, F. Serviss, M. Austin, J. Growcock, and R. Salazar.

Young Republicans Sponsor State Convention

The Grand Old Party's youngsters were all out fall quarter to keep their party in power throughout the state and nation. Young Republican members gave many hours of their time to boost candidates and spread literature.

Ellensburg was the scene of the Young Republican College League Convention, February 16, when the local chapter hosted members from throughout the state at a local hotel.

A Political Workshop was held by the club members, and many speakers, films, and other activities were sponsored by the members at meetings throughout the year.

Leading the "fighting Young Republicans" and keeping the banners flying high were Don Robertson, president; Rolf Williams, vice president; Dolores Mueller, secretary; and Dorothy Heini, treasurer.

Raymond Bauer, adviser, gave much assistance and aid to the group as a veteran member of the Republican party.

Hosting the State Young Republican College League convention was one of the many tasks performed by the local Young Republican group. A local hotel was used for the business and luncheon meetings February 16, at which time Don Robertson was elected state President.

Keeping in tune with the Homecoming theme of "Sweezy Memoirs" the Munson girls turned back the pages of time to give Sweeties present and alumni a picture of the "good old days" with their skit.

MUNSON HALL

Named for John P. Munson, head of the Department of Biology from 1900 to 1928, is Munson Hall on the south side of Eighth Avenue. The dorm was completed in 1927, with the new addition being added in 1946-47. Approximately 125 girls reside in the brick structure, named in honor of Mr. Munson who passed away in 1928 of a heart attack and who lies at rest in the Odd Fellows' Cemetery, near Ellensburg.

With 115 girls residing in Munson Hall, there was plenty of spirit and cooperation in just about every activity that occurred on campus throughout the year.

Munson's sign, float, and skit were well received during Homecoming with the girls erecting the first-place award winning sign.

Several all-college dances, including the Sadie Hawkins and the Devil's Diversion, are well remembered by students attending them. Two firesides, a dorm private, an initiation party, and a Christmas party were a few of the other activities sponsored by the girls.

The officers of Munson were Maralyn Mannie, president; Sharon Oswalt and Ann Couzins, vice-presidents; Georgia Kibler, secretary; Marilyn Trolson, treasurer; Carol Garinger, proctor; Robin Bedard and Bonnie Munz, social commissioners; Donna Cavadini, historian; Marti Fosnacht and Joan Swanson, freshmen representatives; and Norma Woodard, SGA representative.

Lending a motherly hand when needed were Mrs. Elinor Fisher and Alice Brammer, her assistant.

More than a hundred girls invaded Sue Lombard Hall fall quarter loaded with baggage, talent, and determination to make Sue one of the most active dorms on campus.

Freshmen were welcomed with an initiation and party and soon were working with upperclassmen to produce outstanding Homecoming entries. The float placed second, and third place honors were received on the skit and sign produced by the girls.

Several firesides, an all-college dance, and the annual spring quarter formal kept the girls busy making preparations.

"Twinkle Toes" and "O Holy Night" were sung by the song queens during the choral competition to net the young women second place honors, and another trophy for the mantel.

A picnic spring quarter sent the girls away feeling gay for a vacation.

Officers were Morag Robertson, president; Beverly Nicholas, vice-president; Dorothy Heintz, secretary; Marjorie Sweet, treasurer; Jan Kanenwisher, social commissioner; Pat Hartman, historian; Joy Barsotti, courtesy chairman; and Carolyn Todd, SGA representative.

Mrs. Janet Thorn, assisted by Pat Gauss, was housemother.

SUE LOMBARD HALL

In honor of Mrs. Sue Lombard Horsley, Sue Lombard Hall was so named after its construction in 1927. In 1915 Sue Lombard was appointed to the Board of Regents. She was married in 1917, adding the name of Horsley. Some 110 girls occupy Sue Lombard Hall which has its own dining hall. Mrs. Horsley passed away in 1935 and is remembered for her interest in many clubs in the Yakima Valley.

Frocks and frills were exchanged for football helmets and rooting togs when the Sue girls hit the stage during Homecoming to display Central's football talent against the Eastern Savages.

Many hands and ideas went into Kamola's float which was adorned by several beauties selected from among the co-eds residing in Kamola. The fine efforts made Kamola's float one of the best.

KAMOLA HALL

Kamola was the name selected for the oldest dorm on campus on May 26, 1916 in honor of an Indian girl from the Yakima Valley. Requests came from several organizations in the valley requesting the name. Old Kamola, the northwest part of the dorm, was built in 1911; the east unit in 1915; and the south part in 1919. Being the largest dorm on campus, 170 women students reside here.

With Mary Bryan at the helm, Kamola Hall sailed through one of its most active years in the history of the dorm.

Homecoming saw the girls industriously constructing a float and sign and displaying talent in the stunt night competition.

With the dorm overflowing with occupants, of course there was talent galore. First place honors were taken by the Kamolians during the choral competition at Christmas time.

"Kannabil Kapers," an all-college dance, a formal, and several firesides, sponsored by Kamola were successfully carried out.

Although not noted for its P.E. majors, the Kamola girls won first place in the inter-dorm volleyball contest held fall quarter.

Assisting Miss Bryan were Jama Goodman, vice-president; Molly Clough, secretary; Gladys Weston, treasurer; Carol Ozanich and Darline Allen, social commissioners; and Marilyn Grove, representative to SGA.

Mrs. Ruth Cushman has served as housemother for the largest group of girls on campus this year. Her assistants have been Phyllis Reynolds, Marylou Turner, and Sandra Snell.

Carl Tingelstad presided over the men of North Hall to carry them through an eventful year.

The traditional frosh initiation started the year off followed by the construction of a sign for Homecoming. Two firesides were also sponsored fall quarter.

A new tradition was started by North during Homecoming when they honored their own housemother and Homecoming Queen Margie Beauchamp and her court. This will be an annual affair sponsored by the men of North in the future.

The Christmas season saw the men take third place honors in dorm decorations, first place honors for the individual window decoration competition, and honors in the choral competition.

Winter quarter brought the annual Winter Wonderland Formal held in the CUB Lounge. The annual semi-formal dorm dance and the dorm picnic rounded out the year's activities.

Dorm leaders also included Bill Chapman, vice-president; Al Franko, secretary; Barry Gray, treasurer; Bob Greenlee, MIA representative; Leon Stevens, SGA representative; Dick Gohl, sergeant-at-arms; and Blair Mortensen and Alden Esping, social commissioners.

Mel and Margie Beauchamp were house counselors fall quarter. The men were guided by Joe and Joan Stone for the remainder of the year.

NORTH HALL

Because of its location on upper campus, North Hall is the only dormitory not named for a person. Situated on Walnut Street, 101 men students occupy the spacious rooms. The two-story concrete structure was completed in time for students to move into it during the fall of 1951. During the summer months, North Hall, like several of the other dorms on campus, houses Boys' and girls' State representatives.

North Hall's Winter Wonderland Formal held in the main lobby of the CUB January 11 featured music by the Hi-Fi's from Yakima. One hundred couples attended this annual affair of dancing and fun.

Judging the Christmas decorations in the dorms was not an easy task. Barbara Conrad relaxes among Wilson Hall's decorations while the other committee members try to make a decision.

WILSON HALL

Wilson Hall holds the distinction of being the newest dormitory on campus being completed in 1955. This men's dorm was named in honor of William Wilson, principal of the Washington State Normal School, now known as Central Washington College of Education, from 1898 until 1916. Mr. Wilson was also a member of the State Board of Education. He passed away in 1930, and today 101 men reside in the dorm named in his honor.

A new event was established at Central during the past year by Wilson Hall who sponsored an all-college pajama dance. The dance, held in the Men's gym, found a variety of different designed and colored pajamas, nighties and nightshirts. Because of the success of this event, it is planned to make this a traditional event by the men of Wilson.

Being the newest dorm on campus, the men have a high degree of morale and spirit. Singing in the showers developed some fine voices for these fellows and when the choral competition rolled around.

A private fireside during fall quarter gave the men an opportunity to bring their dates to the dorm.

Jerry Parrish presided over the 101 men, being assisted by Don Robertson, vice-president; Bill Tucker and Brian Gerards, secretaries; Dean Bunce, treasurer; Joe Kominski, Lyle Martin, Clint Copenhagen, Bill Duncalf, and John Tyner, sergeants-at-arms; Fred Brown and Gary Larsen, MIA representatives; Dave Searce and Jim Selig, historians; and Don Jacobs, social commissioner.

The house counselors for Wilson this year were Mr. and Mrs. Al Reeves.

During initiation, Kennedy's freshmen were quite distinguished by their green faces and the title "Kennedy's Green Frosh."

These men and the other residents of Kennedy were later active in entering a sign and a float in the Homecoming competition, as the greenness wore off.

A private Fireside was held fall quarter, and the men industriously engaged in converting the basement into a ping pong room for spare time recreation.

Christmas was soon here and the fellows joined voices to compete in the choral competition. Hands and talent were joined to beautifully decorate the lounge and windows.

Kennedy was favorably represented in all MIA activities and in other activities throughout the school year.

Officers for the upper-campus dormitory were Roger Myers, president; Larry Rucker, vice-president; Gary Solie, secretary; Mel Lindauer, treasurer; Bill Estby, John Kelly, and Chuck Ewers, sergeants-at-arms; Ed Tyler, social commissioner; Chet Cooney, MIA representative; and Jerry Yeager and Walt Bernard, SGA representatives.

Lou and Francie Richards spent their second year as house counselors for the men.

KENNEDY HALL

Completed in 1948, women students occupied Kennedy Hall until 1955 when the girls moved into Munson, formerly a men's dorm, and the men headed for the upper campus dorm named in honor of Miss Ora Kennedy. Miss Kennedy served as director of dormitories and housekeeper at Kamaia from 1921 until 1933 when she passed away. Today, 97 men students come and go from the wood and brick structure located on Walnut street.

Kennedy's men turned out in full force to decorate for the inter-dorm competition at Christmas time. Many hours of intricate work and talent resulted in a beautifully decorated window scene.

Ping pong paddles and balls receive a good working out from the Alford Hall men during spare hours in the dorm. A table is always ready for occupants in the lobby of the pre-fab.

ALFORD HALL

With the increased enrollment following World War II pre-fabs were moved to the campus from Bremerton in 1946 and 1947. This quad, which is located at the northeast corner of the pre-fab quadrangle was named after Clifton Alford, who was killed August 3, 1944 while serving with the Armed Forces in Germany. He attended Central from 1938 to 1942 and served as a faculty member for two quarters in 1943.

Alford Hall displayed outstanding talent and sportsmanship in all dorm activities throughout the school year.

Muscles paid off with honors for the Alford freshmen when they won the Frosh tug-of-war battle.

Two Wednesday night mixers were sponsored by the 35 men of Alford. Munson Hall cooperated with this pre-fab in sponsoring a fireside which was well attended.

An all-college dance also kept the men busy planning, decorating, and hosting the many students who came to cut the rug on the dance floor.

John Wagner, president of the dorm, was assisted by a very active council consisting of Wesley Boardman, vice-president; Ray DeBernardi, secretary; Dick Deane, treasurer; Jim Correy, Pat Watson, and Hal Heath, social chairmen; Ira Jensen, MIA representative; and Jerry McMullen and Al Caveletto, sergeants-at-arms.

Santos Pantoja, house counselor, was always ready to give advice or to lend a hand when it was needed by the men.

Mrs. Norine Whitner served as house mother and a true companion to the men of Carmody Hall during the past year.

Activities were many and varied with the year beginning with the whole dorm joining together to make Homecoming a success. The men entered a sign, a float, and a skit in the competition when grads appeared on campus once again.

A hobo mixer fall quarter and another mixer spring quarter also appeared on the agenda of activities. During winter quarter a ski party was held by the fellows.

Even though small, the men entered intramural competition to show that they are athletically inclined. Sleeves were rolled up high when the blood drive was carried on winter quarter to help boost the Central quota.

An annual affair, the dorm picnic, was held spring quarter.

Carmody's leaders were Gerald Pollock, president; Phil Platt, vice-president; Tom Reilly, treasurer; Jack Sheridan, secretary; Don Sorenson, social commissioner; Tom Shellenberger, MIA representative; and Larry Rogers, John Coffee, Bill Neavill, and Carl Green, sergeants-at-arms.

CARMODY HALL

In honor of Courtland Carmody, who attended Central from 1939 to 1942, Carmody Hall was so named. Carmody received the Air Medal and the Purple Heart Award for serving beyond the call of duty with the Armed Forces in Europe during World War II. He was killed in action August 6, 1944. Housing is available for 60 men students in Carmody Hall, as in the other pre-fabs. Carmody Hall is located in the southwest corner of the quadrangle.

Many tots gave up their wagons so the men of Carmody could use their ingenuity to construct a novelty float and have a lot of fun during the Homecoming parade in amusing themselves and others.

Night after night the men of Montgomery Hall met to rehearse and plan their acts for the stunt night competition during Homecoming. The end results showed their hard work and cooperation.

MONTGOMERY HALL

Another serviceman was chosen to be honored when the quad located in the southeast corner of the quadrangle was named in 1946. Hamilton Montgomery majored in music at Central from 1935 to 1939 and also lettered in football and basketball. He received many honors and medals for his military service before and after his death December 29, 1944, when he was killed in a plane crash in North Africa while serving his country.

Keeping up in competition with the other dorms on campus is not easy for such a small group of men as those at Montgomery, but the fellows were always ready to try.

Much humor was injected into the Homecoming stunt night program by the Montgomery men, who spent many nights perfecting their acts.

A Wednesday night mixer was sponsored by the men to help boost funds in their treasury.

To keep the men tied more closely together, several house parties were held. Whether a party was going on or not, the lobby of Montgomery was usually occupied with a card game, a round of ping pong, or a bull session.

Fred Mills and Glen Wilsey were presidents of the dorm. Other officers included George Scott, vice-president; Paul Bolt, secretary; Bill McCormick, treasurer; Vic Carpine, sports captain; Bill O'Neil and Sam Johnson, social commissioners; and John McCormick and Mike McMahon, sergeants-at-arms.

Small, but active, Munro Hall started the year by participating in Homecoming. The next long-planned event was the Christmas choral competition. Munro Hall's men worked hard practicing, and held the honor of being the only prefab to enter the competition.

During spring quarter, the men held a very successful event, their traditional "Last Round-up," carrying out the theme with Western decorations and garb. This was looked forward to and enjoyed by everyone who attended.

Though few in number, this pre-fab made up for this shortage in its fine dormitory spirit and friendship among the residents.

They were directed by Dave Fitzgerald, president; Dick Rosacrans, vice-president; Lloyd Epperly, secretary-treasurer; Bob Holtz and Bernard Johnston, social commissioners; Phil Rayan, MIA representative; and Jerry Thomas and Dick Hull, sergeants-at-arms.

George Werthington served the group as counselor.

MUNRO HALL

Another music major, Douglas Munro was honored in having Munro Hall named in his memory. This hall located in the northwest corner of campus also houses 60 men students. Munro was killed in battle in Guadalcanal shortly after 1939, receiving the First Congressional Medal. He attended Central in 1938 and 1939 and served as drum major during that time. Munro Hall was erected in 1946, the building coming from Bremerton.

Jamm sessions are a familiar thing in the lobbies of the dorms. The men of Munro gather around the piano occasionally to hear a little jazz or boogie or to harmonize old favorites.

United ideas and efforts produced a very outstanding float by the Vetville residents and the Vet's Club for the Homecoming parade. Their theme honored the classes of '31 and '46 in keeping with the theme.

VETVILLE

Forty-four units for married students were erected in the northwest corner of campus in February, 1946. From that time on, veterans and their families, have occupied the frame apartments. Today many students who are not veterans also reside there. With the number of married students desiring a college education following the war, Vetville was constructed. The residents elect their own mayor and officers to govern over them.

Forty-four housing units in Vetville house married students and their families. To draw the residents closer together an organization is formed each year and a wide variety of activities are planned.

Santa Claus comes to visit the young children each Christmas at Vetville, when the parents hold their annual Christmas party. This year's party was bigger and better than ever.

A true sign of cooperativeness existed at Homecoming when the married students joined with the Veterans to design and construct an outstanding float.

When the high school seniors invaded the campus, the Vetville people sponsored a dance to help make the seniors feel at home.

Spring quarter picnic baskets were filled with goodies and the cars with students and children as the Vetville residents journeyed to Swauk for their annual spring picnic.

Officers of Vetville for the year were John Anderson, mayor; Ernest DeRocher, vice-mayor; Jackie Erland, secretary; Jack Lince, treasurer; Robert Stanaway, historian; and Jerry Knutson, MIA representative.

An organization for the men and women who reside off campus, the group met regularly to discuss problems and to plan events to provide social life for those not residing in the dormitories.

The major activity of the year was the sponsoring of the Social Knowhow sessions held each Tuesday afternoon during Winter quarter. A wide variety of speakers and topics were discussed. These sessions were held open to all students on campus.

A men's choir from off-campus took top honors in the choral competition to win a trophy and provide colorful music for the packed auditorium of students and faculty members.

Jacque Hudson and Jerry Wenger were presidents of the Off-Campus Men and Women. Assisting were Larry Mayberry, vice-president; Bill Sampson, secretary; Phil Gant, treasurer; Bob Dodge and Judy Allan, social commissioners; and Dr. George Fetter, adviser.

OFF CAMPUS

Many students live at home and attend Central each year. Also many married students live in housing other than Vetville and belong to the Off-Campus organization. Still other single students live in approved housing off campus to relieve the dormitories of the excess population of students attending Central. The Central Courts and the College Apartments have also been converted to student housing off campus.

DORM LIFE IS A MAJOR PART OF COLLEGE

Many parents stopped to relax for a minute after moving their son's or daughter's things into a dormitory room.

A common sight around campus was letting Pop help carry belongings into the "new home away from home."

It took many trips for most students before all of their things were stacked in a room waiting to be unpacked.

Mother even stopped to look over the facilities, perhaps remembering her college days or with a bit of envy.

After the first few days of school and things are all put away most of the girls enjoy "fixing up" to meet the fellows.

Perhaps not the most interesting, but an important part of campus life, comes when students have to spend some time studying.

ACTIVITIES

To the activities,
the life blood of our campus, we wish to use this space to thank you sincerely for truly making this college year what it was.

PAUL LAMBERTSEN, Editor

Thousands of hours of planning and work, 349,600 sheets of paper, several buckets of ink, and numerous sheets and rolls of film have gone into producing the 1957 Hyakem.

Most important, though, is the staff. Without a cooperative staff, all planning is lost. Without a cooperative staff, a job cannot be given the attention it should be given.

Approximately 100 students devoted some time in assembling this yearbook. Some students gave an hour's time while other students gave many hours of their time and talent. Every hour counts on such a job as producing a yearbook. The editor wishes to thank all students who helped make the 1957 Hyakem possible.

Dozens of pencils were worn drawing lines and preparing copy. Carbons were used, reused, and discarded while typing copy. Several typewriter ribbons were replaced; while several gallons of rubber cement and thinner vanished.

Band-aids were placed on cut fingers of students mounting pictures, as several packages of blades used for trimming photos lost their sharpness.

From drugstore shelves to staff members went bottles

Hyakem Staff Works Long Hours;

Many hands made work light around the Hyakem office. Representing only a few of the students who helped make this book what it is are N. Petre, D. Turner, S. Wirt, B. Smith, and Roger Asselstine.

of aspirin, anacin, and sleeping pills to cure headaches, the blues, and sleepless nights.

Nearly 3,000 flashbulbs blinked at students and faculty members. Gallons of chemicals and water were used to reveal what the photographers' cameras had seen.

Plans were made, remade, altered, and realtered before definite plans were adopted. Lines were drawn, redrawn, altered, and realtered before a dummy copy of the 1957 Hyakem was presented to the engraver and to the printer.

Each completed page seemed to raise a thousand pounds off the minds of staff members. A shout of glee came from the Hyakem office when the last piece of copy was placed in the printer's hands, all proofs had been proofread, and the work had simmered down to a forty mile-an-hour gale.

Paul Lambertsen, editor, was assisted by Lynn Forbes, Donna Turner, and Dorothy Heintz, associate editors; Pat Gauss, copy editor; Lowell Erland, Pat Whitman, Marilyn Meyer, and Gary LaChance, photographers; Robert Slingland, adviser; and a host of other students with one goal in mind — to produce a yearbook at Central that every student would be proud to possess.

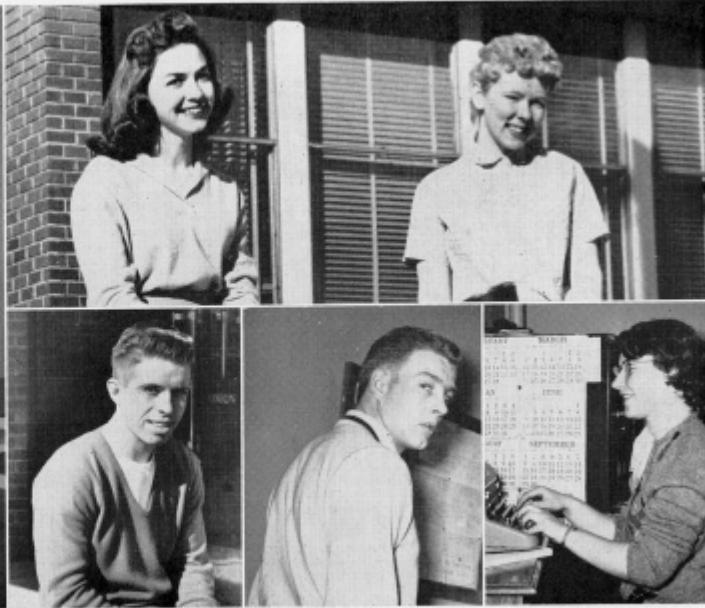

LYNN FORBES, Associate Editor

Memories Are Many and Pleasant

June Hanson served as business manager for the Crier and Hyakem.

Pat Whitman and Marilyn Meyer worked day and night completing pictures and meeting deadlines for this book. Other photographers were Gary LaChance and Lowell Erland. Erland did all the color work. Pat Gauss served as copy editor.

SHARON SAEGER
Fall Editor

"Enrollment Soars to All-Time Peak," "Sammy Kaye Appears Here Friday," and "Crier Wins First Class Rating," are but several of the headlines adorning the Campus Crier during the year.

Sharon Saeger edited the top-rated weekly newspaper fall quarter, while Bill Leth served as Editor during winter and spring quarters. Gene Luft acted as associate editor for the entire year. Dave Perkins covered the sporting events as sports editor, being assisted by Dick Weber, assistant sports editor, fall quarter, and Hal Heath, winter and spring quarters.

June Hanson, business manager, kept an accurate account of the income and expenditures. She was assisted by Joe Crites, advertising manager, in selling advertising space in the Crier to local and national business firms. Robert Slingland advised the Campus Crier this year in the absence of Miss Bonnie Wiley.

From week to week the editor and associate editor sent out notices for staff meetings. The Crier office swelled with eager journalists waiting to receive assignments for stories each Thursday evening.

"Get that copy in," screamed the editor when deadlines were rapidly approaching and Mr. or Miss Journalist had failed to leave his or her written copy in the copy basket.

Crier Staff Edits Top-Notch

A few of the many reporters who did outstanding writing for the Crier were R. Andersen, M. Trolson, J. Kotchko, B. Weller, J. Crooks, B. Smith, F. Bowen, D. Dedrick, and G. Willoughby.

Robert Slingland did an excellent job as Crier and Hyakem adviser throughout the year.

Each Tuesday all the copy was carefully placed in the printer's hands. Each Wednesday night the staff burned the midnight oil proofreading copy and doing the layout for the paper which would reach the Central students on Friday.

Many classes were missed by the editor on Thursday morning when he or she reported to the print shop to help set the type and see that all was in good shape for the Friday issue.

Slowly, but surely, the staff realized that another issue had been completed and that only once more must the editor make assignments, only once more must the staff read proofs, and only once more will the Central student pick up a copy of the 1956-57 school year Campus Crier.

The Campus Crier editors wish to thank all those students who helped make the Campus Crier what it has been during this school year. The great sacrifices made by the editors and staff members have been greatly rewarded in seeing each finished issue of a Crier and the writer looks at it and says, "That's my story," or "I wrote that head."

The adviser extends his hand and says, "You've done a great job, people. I'm justly proud of you."

Winter and Spring Editor

Paper Wins Many Honors

Gene Luft served as associate editor under Leth and Miss Saeger by acting as their right-hand man.

Handling the sports duties were H. Heath; D. Perkins, the outstanding sports editor; D. Tsoboi; and E. Templer. Photographers were D. Ewing and P. Crawford. Joe Crites served as advertising manager.

"Laura" Presented Fall Quarter

"Laura"—a three-act mystery by Vera Caspary and George Sklar, was presented in the auditorium to capacity audiences on the evenings of November 29 and 30. The play was directed by Norman Howell.

Barbara Bradbury played the title role, a sophisticated career girl who was supposed to have been murdered.

James Kelley, as detective Mark McPherson, not only solves the mystery but falls in love with Laura. Waldo Lydecker, an epigrammatical columnist played by Roger Asselstine, is discovered to have committed the heinous crime in a fit of jealousy.

Other suspects in the drama were Shelby Carpenter, portrayed by Gib Edwards, Marjorie Finkle, who resented Laura's intrusion into the life of her son, Danny; and Richard Vennetti who played Danny. Completing the cast were Diane O'Brien and Alan Goodell.

Assisting Mr. Howell was Ann Bowker, and Jackie Amundson was prompter. Richard Nickels served as stage manager, with the stage crew consisting of Steve Doutrich, Dave Scearce, Don Bluher, and Ken Brown. Other members of the production staff were: Nancy Lampson and Huberta Peacock, wardrobe; Janet Ittner, makeup; Loretta Johnson, programs; Sonya Helsley, advertising; Pat Maher, posters; Larry Rucker, portrait of Laura; and Avis Schmuck and Director of Publications Robert Slingland, publicity.

"Great Big Doorstep" Presented March 7-8

Central Washington College Theatre presented "The Great Big Doorstep" on March 7 and 8 under the direction of Milo L. Smith, new this year to the college drama department. This 3-act comedy featured the Crochet Family of Grass Margins, Louisiana, who lived in a tumble-down shack near the Mississippi River and prayed for a time when somebody would lend them $60 to buy a suitable house that would fit the great big doorstep. A realistic stage setting provided a Bayou country atmosphere for the play.

Playing the leading roles were Larry Bowen as Papa Crochet and Ann Bowker as Mama Crochet. Other members of the family were Marty Fasnacht (EVIE), Loretta Johnston (TOPAL), Marie MacLaren (ELNA), Nadine Smith (FLEECE) and Rich Vennetti (ARTHUR). Supporting roles were played by Jack Wallace (TOBIN), Clara Seeley (LANDLADY), Sam Johnson (TAYO), Ray Hiltz (DEWEY) and Sharon Saeger (FLORIST).

Sandra Greenwalt acted as student director for "The Great Big Doorstep." Other production crew members included Beverly Frieze, Barbara Smith, Dorothy McPhillips, Grace Keesling, Huberta Peacock, Rich Nickel, Hugh Hinson, Janet Ostrum, Karen Ludlow, Jim Webster, Nadine Smith, Clara Seeley, Dave Searce, Ken Brown and Don Bluhner.

Papa Crochet (Larry Bowen) promises Mrs. Crochet (Ann Bowker) and Evie (Marty Fasnacht) a new house for the "Great Big Doorstep."

Traditional Frosh Orientation

Frosh Orientation Week is one which will not soon be forgotten by any Central student. From the first visit to the auditorium and return trips many times throughout the week, students heard speakers, took tests, and attended assemblies.

The beanie soon appeared symbolizing the greenness of the freshman.

Do you remember moving into that dormitory room? Wasn't it fun relaxing while "roomy" put his things away!

After a tough week of being orientated, what's more fun than a sack race and a day of fun!

Starts Big Year for Frosh

Say, do you remember how much fun it was to get decked out for initiation and then being allowed to parade around campus to show yourself off?

Kiwanis Park was the setting for several hundred students on field day to find out about campus organizations and activities.

A shoe-kicking contest by the gals proved to be interesting material for the fellows along the sidelines.

Talking over those first few days of classes is a familiar thing among freshman students.

A highlight of Frosh Orientation Week was the rodeo sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce for Central students.

1956 Homecoming Activities

Queen Margie and Princesses Marilyn and Marcia ride high atop the AWS float.

Harley Brumbaugh and Dave Perkins humor-it-up to the tune of the first place skit trophy for FTA.

Finishing touches for signs are very common. This Munson girl's magic hand touches up Munson's first place sign.

Kappa Pi members put many hours of planning and work into their float to capture first place honors in the float division.

Selecting the prize winning floats was a difficult task for the judges.

Honor Classes of '31, '46

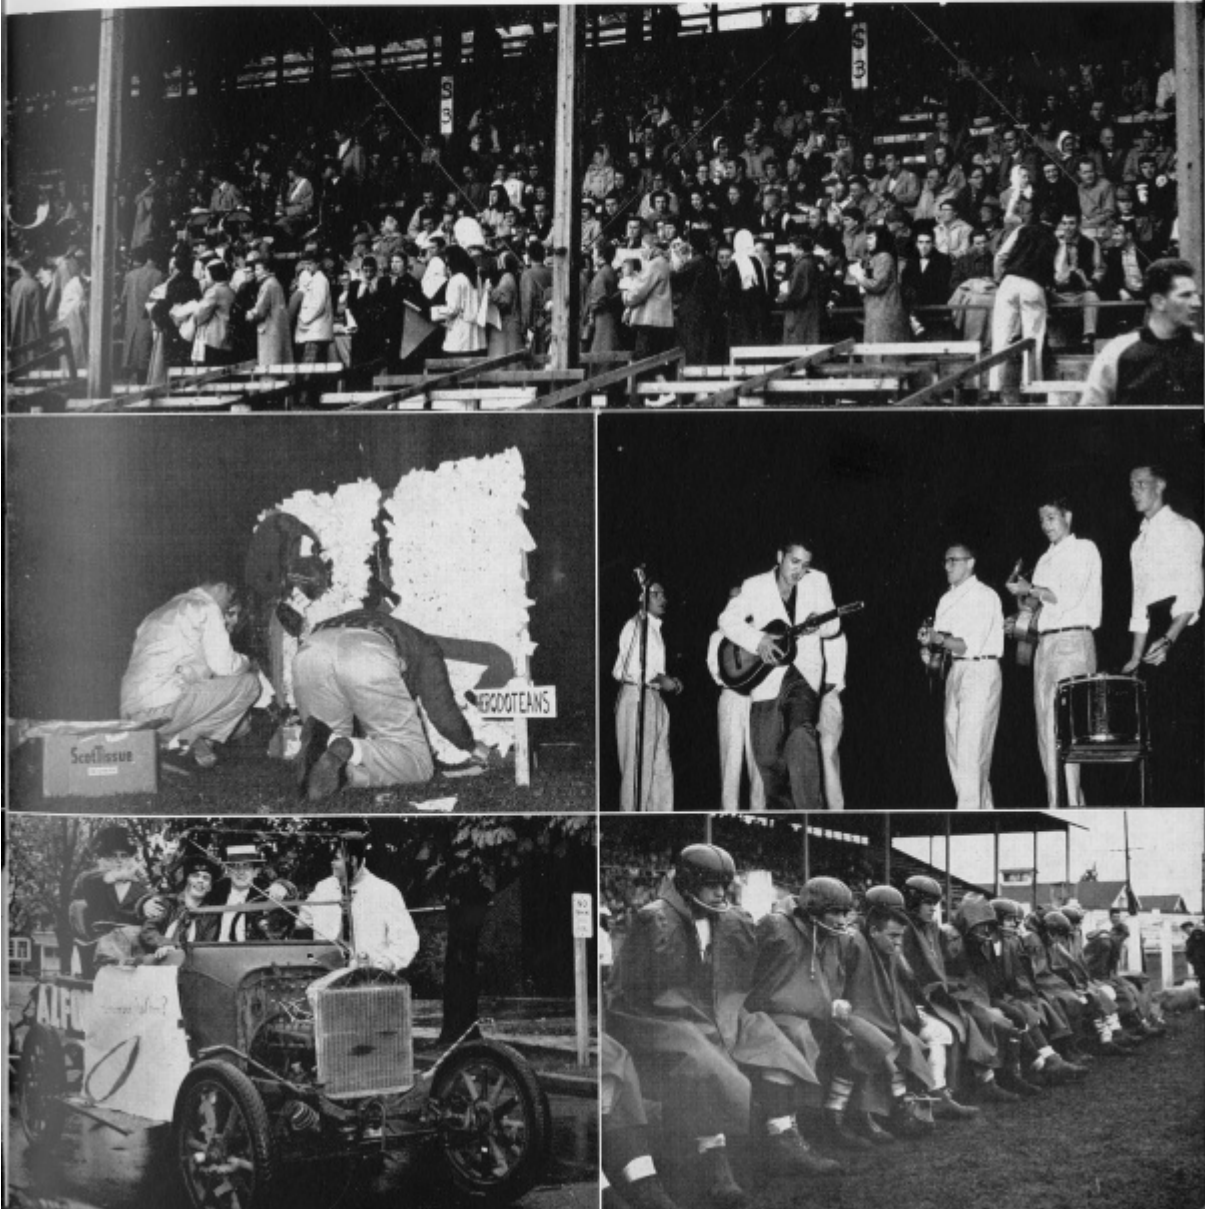

A huge crowd arrived early to pack the rodeo field bleachers for the annual homecoming game.

Herodoteans captured second place honors with their sign.

Elvis Presley and the boys from Carmody Hall came through in top shape to win second place honors with their skit.

A little hilarity is added to the parade of memories recalled of the ride to class many years ago.

It's a cold day for the fellows sitting on the bench waiting and hoping for a chance to play in the homecoming game.

Central Singers Perform at

Seventy-five members of the Central Singers left campus February 17-23 to visit many state cities and to make public appearances. Highlighting the trip was when the Singers were invited to sing at the 1957 Memorial Session of the Washington State Legislature, February 22.

Cities visited while on tour included Sumner, Kelso, Longview, Chehalis, Centralia, Aberdeen, Olympia, Puyallup, Tacoma, Renton, Bellevue, and Seattle. A television performance was made while the group was in Seattle. Choir members stayed in private homes in various visited cities during the tour and travelled in two Greyhound busses.

State Capitol, in 12 Cities

During fall quarter, the Central Singers presented the Messiah, and sang for a program in Yakima.

The annual winter concert was given during the Dad's Day Week-end festivities on February 16. During the program, all students taking choir were brought on stage to form a one-hundred-thirty voice choir.

Presenting a concert over a Yakima television show was one of the highlights of spring quarter for the group of students who spend many, many hours in preparation for perfect performances.

Central's Band Heard Throughout

Leaving campus via Greyhound busses the first week of April was a long awaited trip for the 65 members of the Central Concert Band. The band's schedule included stops at Naches, Zillah, Toppenish, Wapato, Sunnyside, and Walla Walla while in Washington. Crossing over the Columbia, the band members presented concerts in Milton-Freewater, LaGrande, and Baker. Idaho residents in and near the cities of Payette, Nampa, and Boise also heard programs presented in those cities.

A highlight of the trip was a concert given at the convention of the Northwest Division of the Music Educators National Conference while in Boise. Central was one of the three col-

New uniforms arrived fall quarter in time for the band members to wear them when they presented their annual fall concert.

Appearing at many of the basketball and football games was the pep band composed of members from the regular and concert band. Their music added much rhythm and spirit at these events.

Spring quarter, the band members presented their spring concert and performed previous to the graduation ceremonies.

Dad's Day Festivities, February 15-16,

Fried chicken served in a western atmosphere by students in cottons and plaids made the Dad's Day banquet one of the best ever.

As usual, the Spurs were on hand to give Dad a big welcome to Central and give him a program of the weekend's events.

Faculty members, students, and parents exchanged "hellos" during the coffee hour and reception in the CUB Lounge.

Mrs. Schnebly and Mrs. Young were in charge of plans for the February 16 social hour in the CUB to honor the fathers.

Headed by John Draper

Parents and students alike took to the dance floor Saturday night when the APO members sponsored the "Handsome Harry" dance.

Meeting other students and parents and visiting with their own offspring took much of Dad's and Mom's time.

Dorms opened their doors to parents to give them a view of how a student lives on campus. Joan Tomlinson entertains her parents in Sue.

After the choir concert Saturday night, many parents enjoyed a cup of coffee and visiting in the CUB snack bar.

Religious Emphasis Week Held February 4-8

Father Joseph Hanley was a popular speaker during Religious Emphasis Week, February 4-8, during his stay on campus.

Don Robertson, Wayne Heisserman, Joe Wilcoxson, and Ed Chamberlain talk over REW activities during the week.

Seminars were well attended during the week. Other speakers were Clifford Wolfsehr, Rabbi William Sanderson, and Miss Dorathea Teeter.

One of the concluding speeches was given by Father Hanley. Judging from the pictures you can see the number of students who attended his seminars.

Faculty, Students Make WUS Week a Success

Faculty members Miss Mathewson, Abe Poffenroth, and Dr. Sam helped make World University Service Week a success by selling homemade tasties.

Organizations and living groups sponsored booths during Club Day in the CUB. Gary LaChance tried his luck at balloon shaving.

Capt. Cravens gladly gives Bill Raschkow a shoe shine on Faculty Day during the January 21-25 week of activities.

"How about some cookies or cupcakes?" Dr. Sam asked many students and faculty members passing the information booth.

Bert Christianson and the Sweecians were one of the outstanding performances displayed during Stunt Night.

Sammy Kaye Here November 9 for Prom

Within a matter of a few hours the Commons dining hall was turned into an interesting and beautiful ballroom November 9.

A constant crowd of students gathered around the bandstand to listen to the strains and watch the actions of the band.

When Sammy took his clarinet in hand to do a solo much attention was turned toward the bandstand and the music artist.

Especially appealing to the men in the crowd was vocalist Candy Anderson who entertained with many solos during the evening.

Dianne Chapman Named Military Ball Queen

Before dancing began for the Military Ball, March 2, advanced cadets and their dates journeyed down the reception line.

Mike Duran and Cherie Willoughby received the gun salute when entering as did all other couples who attended the ball.

Entering through streamers onto the dance floor are Russ Jones and Sylvia Stevens. The decorations were termed "beautiful" by all.

Queen Dianne Chapman reigned supreme over the annual Military Ball with her escort, Marty Budzius, who received the Outstanding Junior Cadet Award.

Pep Squad Keeps Sweezy Spirit Alive

Leading the Central rooters in the grandstands during rain or shine, and in the bleachers whether winning or losing, was a challenging and time-consuming task for the yell leaders. Their constant enthusiasm and pep is highly honored by the Hyakem staff and fellow colleagues. They did a job that would be hard to beat.

When the band struck up a tune, lively song leaders struck up rhythm and pep to entertain the spectators. With pom-poms in hand the girls gave many hours of time, many wiggles of the hips, and many pleasant smiles to indicate that there is still pep on Sweezy's campus. Thanks for your fine spirit and entertainment.

Wildcats Prove Tough Competition

COACH ABE POFFENROTH

Football saw a big year for the Central Washington College Wildcats. After suffering through two previous seasons with two-won, six-lost season's record, the Cats showed a vast amount of improvement in the 1956 season. Under the able hands of head coach Abe Poffenroth, and assistant coaches Warren Tappin and Bud Tarrant, the Wildcat eleven ended their season with a three-won, four-lost, one tie record, which was good enough for a solid fourth place in the Evergreen Conference.

Even more encouraging than the Wildcats' improved record was the fine caliber of play by the team throughout the entire season. The widest spread of defeat ever suffered by the Cats was an 11-point, 25-14 loss to Whitman in the season's opener, a non-conference tilt at Walla Walla. From there the Central squad picked up two wins, a 23-6 non-conference victory against Portland State at Ellensburg, and a big 19-7 upset victory over Whitworth, the defending champions, in the conference opener at Spokane.

Pacific Lutheran, next on the schedule, came to Ellensburg to edge out a 19-13 victory over the Cats, and Central took another one on the chin from a Tacoma school the next week as the College of Puget Sound Loggers hosted the Wildcats to a 20-12 defeat. The Loggers eventually went on to win the Evergreen Conference pennant.

the following weekend, and the Eastern Washington College Savages came to town to battle out a 6-6 tie game. Playing another close one, Central dropped a one-point, 7-6 contest to the University of British Columbia Thunderbirds in Vancouver for their final loss of the season, and then came back to defeat the Western Washington College Vikings in the season's finale at Bellingham, 13-7.

Interestingly enough, if the Central squad had been able to pick up a total of 19 more points against four opponents, they would have been the Conference champions, and one more victory would have given them the second place spot in the final standings.

Statistics-wise, the Cats ran up 106 total points to 97 for their opponents. Their season's record brings Central's all-time mark up to 123 wins, 109 losses, and 13 ties, for a .502 percentage of wins in total games played. The records, compiled since 1905, also show the Cats with 2921 total points to their opponent's 2523.

Seniors on this year's squad included George Argelan, guard from North Bend; Jim Baggett, end from Renton; Gordon Brame, guard from Pe Ell; Yarl Jensen, tackle from Kent; John Liboky, guard from Ellensburg; Louis Schultz, tackle from Renton; Amos Stitham, halfback from Centralia; and Dave Tucker, guard from Seattle.

Yes, the sun occasionally does shine and the turf is green for games at Central.

Even a muddy field does not hold Jim Thrasher from gaining considerable scoring.

The lockerroom and a friendly pep talk from the coach is welcomed after a muddy half on the gridiron.

WALLA WALLA, SEPTEMBER 22:

Whitman 25, Central 14

Central's season opener was a heartbreaker for the Wildcats, as they lost the game in the final minutes of the contest. The Cats scored twice in the first half on passes from Bud Snaza to end Jim Baggett for a 14-13 lead, and held onto that lead until the final three minutes when the Missionaries broke loose for two quick TD's and the win.

ELLENSBURG, SEPTEMBER 29:

Central 23, Portland State 6

It took the Wildcats just four minutes to move into the lead in the Portland State contest, as tackle Dave Carnahan recovered a Portland fumble on the first play of the game and Bud Snaza moved around right end five plays later for the opening tally. A safety and a 70-yard march with a pass from Snaza to end Joe Kominski for 36 yards gave the Cats a 15-0 halftime bulge. The final Wildcat touchdown came in the last quarter as center Dale Lanegan intercepted a pass and a 15-yard penalty cleared the way for halfback Bob Landon into the end zone.

SPOKANE, OCTOBER 6:

Central 19, Whitworth 7

Whitworth had the second longest win streak in the nation, 20 consecutive victories, until the Wildcats came into town. Showing a supreme effort, the Cats moved both on the ground and in the air for the victory. Sophomore fullback Jim Thrasher intercepted three Whitworth passes at vital moments in the contest and rambled 46 yards in the third quarter for the second Central TD, for one of the biggest individual efforts of the night. It was a pass from Bud Snaza to Joe Kominski that started the Cats off with their first tally in the first quarter for a 6-0 halftime lead, and Snaza moved over himself on a line buck to tally the last TD for the Wildcats in the third quarter.

ELLENSBURG, OCTOBER 13:

Pacific Lutheran 19, Central 13

Central took off to a 6-0 lead in the early minutes of the contest as Bud Snaza passed to halfback Dale Louk for 37 yards and a TD, but PLC came back quickly and powerfully to push over single touchdowns in the second, third, and fourth quarters. Snaza moved over in the final quarter for another Central tally and the Cats appeared to be on their way for another near the end of the contest, but an intercepted Wildcat pass killed the rally and the Lutes went home with the victory.

TACOMA, OCTOBER 20:

Puget Sound 20, Central 12

The big loggers from CPS were probably the only Evergreen team to claim a clear superiority over the Wildcats during the season. Central led at half-time, 12-0, but the Loggers came out in the second half to push across three touchdowns for the victory. Halfback Denny Driskill intercepted a Logger pass and romped 40 yards for Central's first touchdown, late in the first quarter, and Bud Snaza drove across for the second tally in the second quarter. The CPS eleven showed their power in the final half, however, as their superior weight paid off on the wet, muddy field to give them three TD's for the victory.

ELLENSBURG, OCTOBER 27:

Central 6, Eastern 6

Homecoming was a wet, cold day on Rodeo Field and saw a bitterly fought game played in a sea of mud. Both teams went scoreless throughout the first half, with Central tallying their first score in the third quarter. Bud Snaza moved through the right guard spot for 40 yards and six points. It was only a half minute later that the Savages evened the score up on a 65-yard pass play, and from there the two teams settled back into a tight ball game to come out in a 6-6 deadlock.

VANCOUVER, B.C., NOVEMBER 3:

British Columbia 7, Central 6

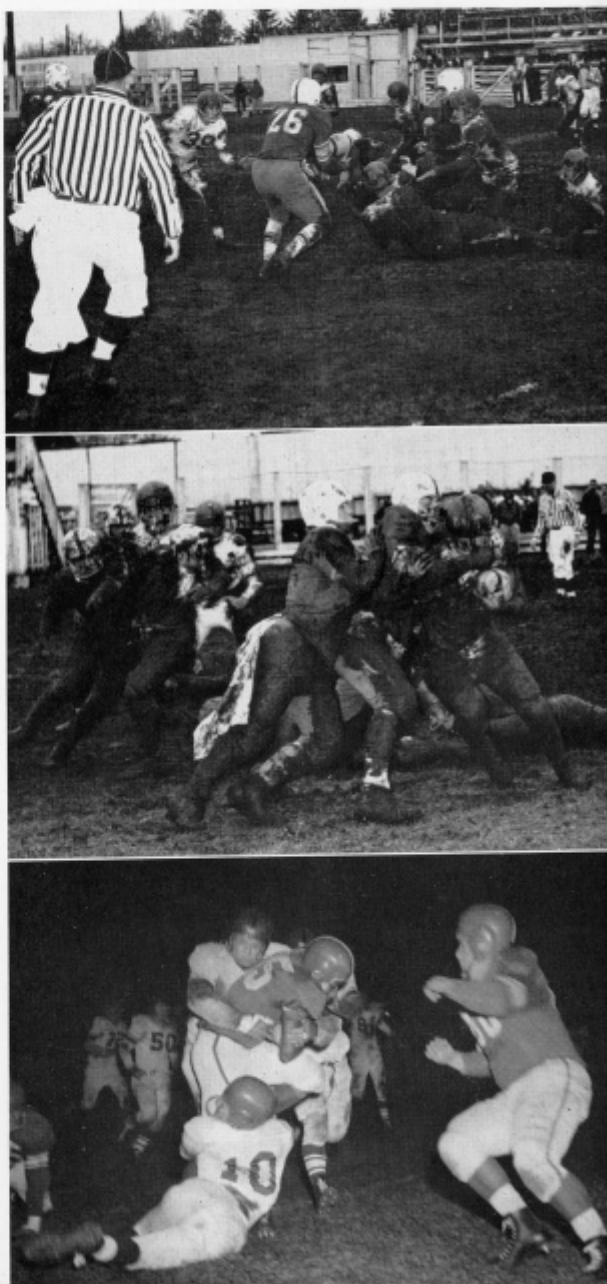

The UBC Thunderbirds proved to be surprisingly determined for this contest and walked off with what was their third victory in their entire Evergreen Conference history. The upset meant the difference between second and fourth place for the Cats. Jim Thrasher moved over as the finale of a 72-yard drive in the first quarter for six points to start things off, but the Thunderbirds came back to go ahead in the second quarter on a 70-yard pass play, 7-6. From there on, neither team could score. Central moved deep into UBC territory four more times for scoring opportunities, but could never go the few remaining yards.

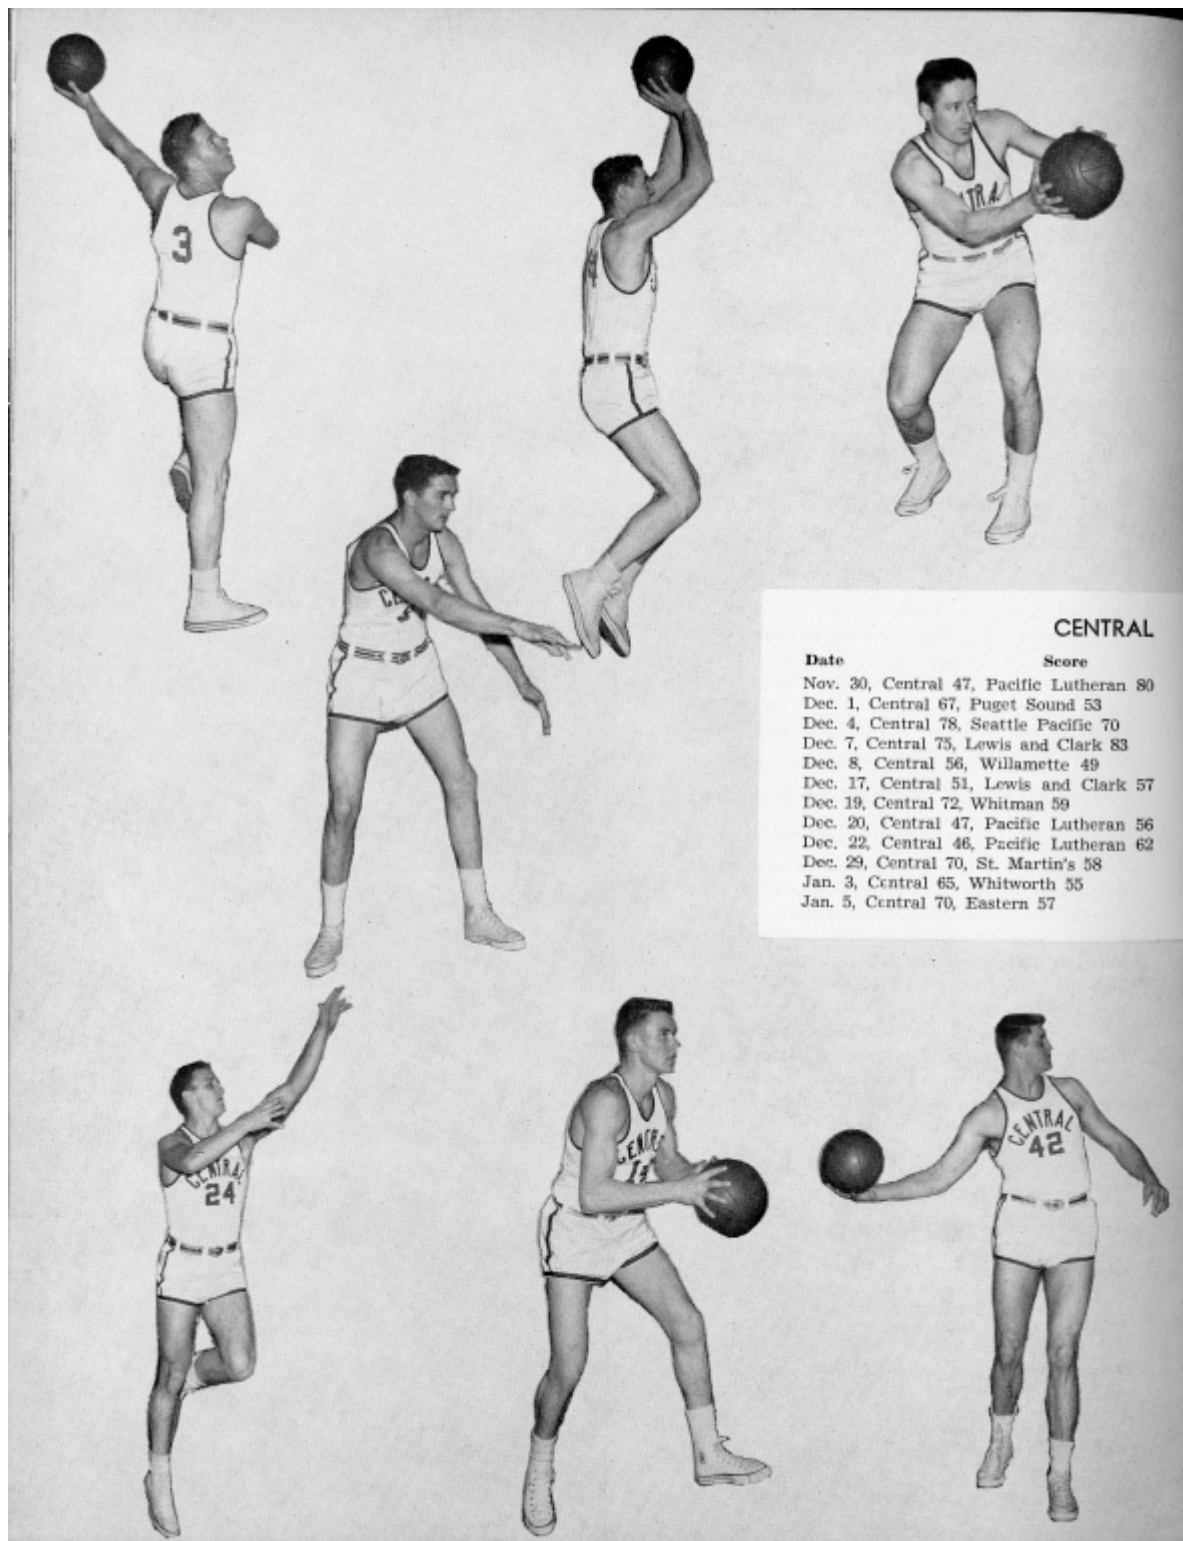

BELLINGHAM, NOVEMBER 10:

Central 13, Western 7

Western gave the Cats a scare as they scored in the first two minutes on a fake punt play which netted 50 yards and seven points for the Vikings, but the Cats came back in the second quarter as Joe Kominiski recovered a WWCE fumble and Elmer Bailey moved over for a TD. Bailey booted the extra point and it was a new ball game. Early in the fourth quarter center Gary Frederick nabbed a Western pass, and five plays later Bud Snaza moved around right end for the winning tally.

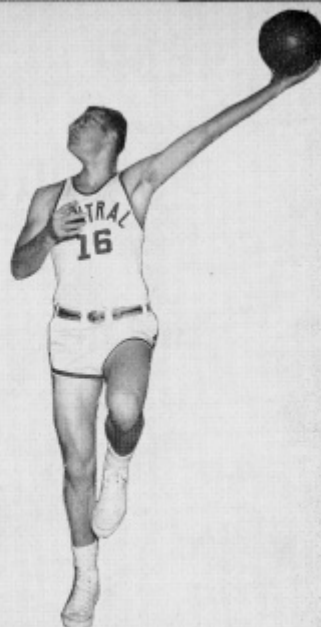

There's a lot of slipping around and fumbling with a muddy field and a wet ball. These blackened jerseys would give the best of reporters trouble in distinguishing players. The Wildcats played Portland State under the lights, September 29, to win their first game.

Bill Coordes was named to the Evergreen All-Conference first team and was voted Central's Honorary Captain.

Nine games were played in Ellensburg during the season with huge attendance crowds at all games.

Walt Brudvik, Bill Klehn, Joe Kominaki, and Stu Hanson received honorable mention on the All-Conference team.

ELLENSBURG, JANUARY 3:

Central 65, Whitworth 55

Central pulled one of the surprises of the conference by toppling the highly-rated Pirates from Whitworth in the league opener. The two squads played it tight in the first half and the midway score stood 24-24, but the Wildcats took over in the second half and moved out to the victory.

ELLENSBURG, JANUARY 5:

Central 70, Eastern 57

Eastern started to slowly gain a lead in the early minutes of this contest, but it was Central out in front at the half, 32-24. The Savages came back strong in the second period to edge back into a lead, but the Cats tied it up with eight minutes remaining and then moved out in front to stay.

ELLENSBURG, JANUARY 11:

Central 69, Puget Sound 59

It was a second-half victory for the Wildcats in this one. CPS edged to a 33-31 halftime lead and then saw the Wildcats come booming back with a tremendous team effort to take the lead and stretch it to a 15-point margin with nine minutes left in the game. Reserves sailed home with the victory for the Cats.

TACOMA, JANUARY 17:

Pacific Lutheran 61, Central 53

An inspired Central squad almost upset the applecart for the high-flying Gladiators at Parkland. The Cats dominated the backboards in the second half and shot well to take a 30-28 halftime lead. The second half looked as though the Central crew might run off with it, as they held a 41-24 lead with 15 minutes remaining in the contest, but PLC broke loose for 12 straight points and was never headed from that point on.

VANCOUVER, JANUARY 25:

Central 72, British Columbia 57

Playing without the services of their star guard, Lyle Levy, the Thunderbirds proved easy prey for the Wildcats. The Central squad could do no wrong and had little trouble in downing the Canadian squad.

BELLINGHAM, JANUARY 26:

Western 69, Central 63

A tremendous scoring effort by Western's Leroy Nelson gave Western's Vikings an upset victory over the Wildcats. The star forward tallied 31 points to help his squad overcome a 34-28 Wildcat halftime lead and go on for the victory. The Vikings sewed it up in the last four minutes after a see-saw second half battle.

SPOKANE, FEBRUARY 1:

Whitworth 68, Central 66

This contest was just as tight as the score indicates. Whitworth held a six-point 34-28 halftime lead, but the Cats caught up in the second half and the contest was knotted four times in the period before the Pirates finally managed to edge out for the very crucial final two points.

CHENEY, FEBRUARY 2:

Central 66, Eastern 54

The Wildcats moved to a 16-0 lead in the first minutes of the game and the Savages didn't score until eight minutes had elapsed in the contest. With reserves playing much of the time, the Cats found the way easy going for the remainder of the game.

TACOMA, FEBRUARY 9:

Puget Sound 67, Central 66

The upset bug hit the Cats in this one and the Loggers took home a hard-earned victory. The CPS five led at halftime, 31-28, but the Cats made it nip and tuck throughout the second half until the Loggers hit with a few moments left in the contest to take a one-point margin of victory.

ELLENSBURG, FEBRUARY 14:

Central 75, British Columbia 55

Back on the friendly atmosphere of the home court, the Wildcats turned this contest into an early rout and the Central reserves played much of the game. The Cats threw up a zone defense that the Thunderbirds couldn't break through and along with a high shooting percentage, the Cats romped away with it.

ELLENSBURG, FEBRUARY 15:

Central 61, Western 47

With a Dad's Day crowd watching, the Cats avenged their earlier defeat by the Vikings with an easy victory over the squad from Bellingham. Opening to a nine-point halftime advantage, the Cats spread the lead to 23 points at one time in the second half before coasting on to the win.

ELLENSBURG, FEBRUARY 21:

Pacific Lutheran 69, Central 60

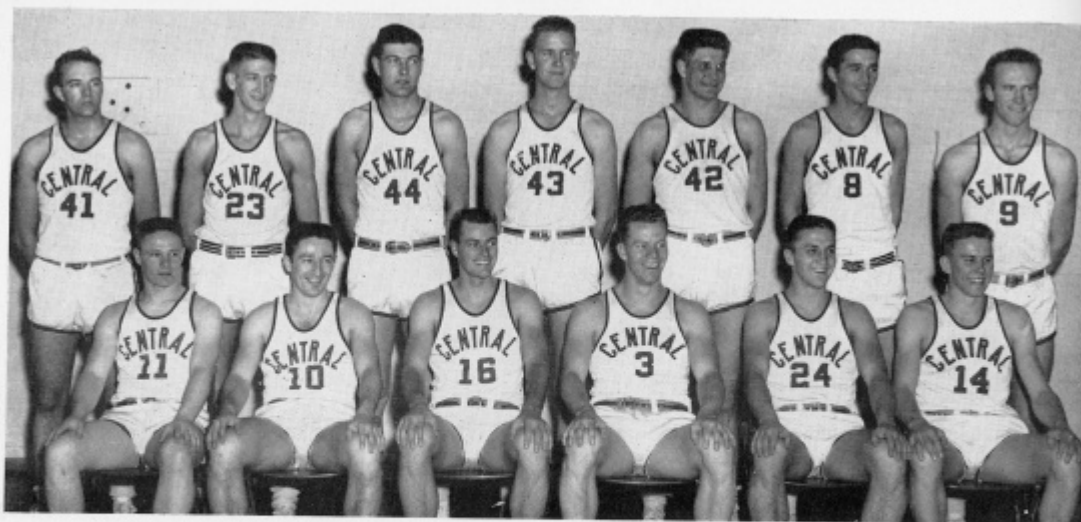

With team spirit running at top peak and the capacity crowd at the Ellensburg High School gym backing the Cats all the way, the Central squad bowed out the season with a beautiful ball game that saw the flashy Pacific Lutheran Gladiators forced right down to the wire before gaining victory. The contest was close all the way, with the Cats sticking close and coming from behind time and time again to close the gap until the final three minutes when the Lutes managed to edge out for their final margin of victory.

Glenn Wood was awarded the Inspirational Award by his teammates. Wood, Kiehn, and S. Hanson were the only seniors on the squad.

The Cats posted a 7-5 conference win-loss record and came through with a 12-12 overall season's record.

Ten of the thirteen Central hoopers are expected to return to help Coach Nicholson boost his win record.

Hoopsters Capture Third Spot

Coach Leo Nicholson, known to his countless friends as "Nick," began his career of basketball coaching at Central in 1929. Since that time his teams at CWCE have taken eight conference championships and this year the Sweezy men gave Nick his 500th victory against 190 losses — an average of 72 percent. Nick is a graduate of the University of Washington law school and coached four years at Bothell High School before coming to Central.

COACH LEO NICHOLSON

Central Washington College's Wildcats, for the third consecutive year, were again in third place behind Pacific Lutheran and Whitworth when play had ended in the Evergreen Conference's 1957 basketball season. The Cats posted a 7-5 conference record and a 12-12 overall season's mark.

Three close contests in league competition kept the Cats out of the number two spot in the final standings. A six-point, 69-63 upset by Western, a 68-66 edging by Whitworth, and a 67-66 heart-breaker by College of Puget Sound kept the Central squad from climbing higher in the final standings. Pacific Lutheran was the only team in the Evergreen Conference that showed an actual superiority over the Wildcats . . . the Gladiators downed the Cats five times during the season to take a 12-0 conference record for first place in the league.

Coach Leo Nicholson reached acclaim throughout the Pacific Northwest in the early part of the season, when his lifetime record of wins reached the 500 mark.

Bill Coordes, a 6'5" sophomore from Toppenish, paced the Wildcats through the season. Bill, who played Air Force ball before coming to the Cats last year, led the squad in scoring, averaging 17.75 points per game in conference action for 213 points in 12 games. He set a new school rebound record at Eastern on February 2, 1957, as he pulled in 23 from the backboards for the new mark. The big boy was named to the Evergreen Conference's All-Conference first team and was voted Honorary Captain by his teammates.

Given honorable mention on the All-Conference team were Bill Kiehn, a smooth and flashy ballplayer from Peshastin; Joe Kominski, a top rebounder and scorer who was hampered by an injured ankle throughout the late part of the season; Stu Hanson, an Ellensburg lad who was one of the toughest defensive players in the conference; and Walt Brudvik, who started late in the season but soon amazed the crowds with his accurate shots from the corner and his speedy driving ability. Glenn Wood, a guard and one of the most steady players on the squad, was awarded the Inspirational Award by his teammates.

Baseball Championship Again Viewed

Prospects looked bright for the baseball enthusiasts of Central Washington College when the season started, even with the loss of six all-conference players from last year's squad.

Stu Hanson and Gary Driessen returned to the squad with a record of 16 wins and no losses between them in last year's action as pitchers. Other returning pitchers were Bill Bieloh, Bill Duft, and Chuck Dunlop. All five men saw action in the first double-hitter when the Wildcats upset the Gonzaga Bulldogs by 6-3 and 8-7 scores, March 30. These wins gave the Wildcats their 18th and 19th consecutive wins. The men finished the season last spring with a 23-2 record.

Other returning squad members were Captain Chuck Burdulis, second base; Remo Nicoli, outfield; Eddie Aho, shortstop; Jerry E. Jones, outfield; Ira Jensen, outfield, and Bobby Braton, catcher.

Coach Warren Tappin, head baseball coach, came to Central four years ago from the University of Washington where he was backfield football coach. In addition to his baseball coaching at Central, "Tap" also serves as assistant football coach. The former University of Massachusetts half-back from 1936-1940 also played two years of professional baseball.

Wildcat Enthusiasm, Skill High

Because of press deadlines, other scores were not available. However, the University of Washington Huskies hosted the Cats April 5. The Cats crossed town the next day to meet the Seattle University Chieftains. In a return game, the Chieftains visited Central April 10.

Central hit the road again April 20 to visit Whitworth; with Eastern traveling to Tomlinson Field, April 27. May 3 was the day the Whitworth Pirates came to Central in a return game. The following week-end the Cats spent the day of the 9th at Gonzaga, and visited the Eastern Savages on Saturday.

Seattle Pacific College was Central's next competitor, May 14. They hosted the Cats in Seattle, May 18.

With the skill and enthusiasm displayed in the early part of the season by the Wildcats, it is almost a cinch that the men will again enter the conference playoffs, May 24-25, as the East side champions.

Track Winnings Based on Letter

"We have a well-balanced squad this season," was track coach Monte Reynolds' comment as the 1957 Hyakem went to press. When the call went out for students to turn out for the team, 45 men reported to the locker rooms.

Returning lettermen included Jim Marta, Larry Hinchon, Gary Correll, Ken Edwards, Mike Higgins, Van Morgan, Larry Bowen, and Louis Schultz. Reynolds also placed high hopes in freshmen Denny Driskill, Mike Austin, Wayne Hurt, Pete Higgins, and Ken Holmes; and transfers Loel Kaynor and Gary Lee.

Driskill, a John Rogers high school graduate of Spokane, is considered as one of the squad's best all-around contenders. He won first place honors in the state low hurdles last spring. His ability and skill in broad jumping, javelin throwing, and high jumping are also impressive.

In the high jumping competition, Marta, who is a consistent six-foot or better jumper, along with Bud Snaza and Wayne Hurt, were considered by Reynolds at the first of the season as contest winners. Others are Darrel Deeg, Denny Driskill, Bob Greenlee, Charles Lindsey, and Ferd Nist.

Coach Monte Reynolds gives pointers to distance runners Mike Higgins, Donn Kaynor, and Mike Austin.

Kenneth Edwards is one of Coach Reynold's most hopeful prospects in the high hurdles competition.

Gary Correll, Ephrata junior, displayed good form and distance in the javelin throw during the season.

men, Frosh, Transfer Athletes

Known as the "Pole Vault Twins of Ellensburg," Pete Higgins and Ken Holmes, were considered great assets to the Central squad.

Distance runners included Larry Hinchey, Mike Austin, Loel Kaynor, Dave Annonen, Leon Stevens, and Roger Wilson. Kaynor is also a former high school state championship winner.

Competitors trying for the 880, 440, 220, and 100-yard racing spots were Jim Baggett, Loel Kaynor, Larry Bowen, Roger Childs, Dick Deane, Gary Driskill, Ken Edwards, Mike Higgins, Leon Stevens, and Marty Budzius.

Working out with the discus and shotput at the first of the season were Gary Lee, a junior college transfer with weight honors in junior college competition, Louis Schultz, Jim Baggett, Victor Carpine, Dick Deane, Ralph Johnson, John Matthewson, Van Morgan, and Darrel Deeg.

Javelin hopefuls were Phil Bergstrom, Victor Carpine, Gary Correll, and Denny Driskill.

Turning out for the hurdles and sprints positions were Ed Cornell, Denny Driskill, Ken Edwards, Gordon Geijsbeck, Frank Hunt, William Peterson, Marty Budzius, and Don Petre.

Broad jump competitors were Gary Correll, Denny Driskill, Van Morgan, Don Petre, and Jim Selig.

Through the air sails the sharp-pointed javelin released by Correll as he resumes his normal stance.

Louie Schultz, veteran shotputter from last year, again displayed good distance throwing the metal ball.

D. Franklin, J. Hanson, D. Ross, C. LeSueur, S. Cowan, D. Ball, K. Sturm, B. Smith, and D. Smith focus their attention on Coach Everett Irish, as the photographer focuses the lens on the team.

Tennis Prospects 'Fair'; No Re

Replacing Leo Nicholson, long-time coach for the Central Wildcats is Everett Irish, a State University of Iowa graduate, who is working on his doctorate's degree at the University of Oregon.

In the pre-season outlook, Irish was counting on Ken Sturm, Stan Cowan, Jim Hanson, Don Franklin, Don Ball, Charles LeSueur, Denny Ross, and Bill Daniels to carry much of the weight for the Cats.

Sturm, an army vet, played tennis while at Lake Washington high school. He is now a junior at Central, majoring in physical education.

The only seniors on the team are Stan Cowan, an Issaquah high graduate; Jim Hanson, of Vancouver, Washington; and Don Ball, a Washington State College transfer from Wenatchee.

A junior college letterman is Don Franklin, a Seattle junior transfer from Everett Junior College. Franklin is also a vet.

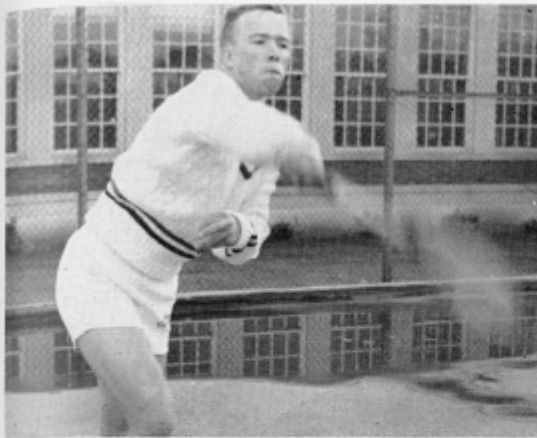

Charles LeSueur, a New Mexico high school graduate, who attended the University of Arizona and the College of Puget Sound before coming to Central, was also counted on to help the squad win matches.

Denny Ross, an Ellensburg sophomore, and Bill Daniels, a Federal Way high school graduate of '56, round out the tennis squad.

Donald Franklin, Seattle, and Charles LeSueur, Ellensburg discuss strategy over the net.

Adding to the team spirit and chances of victory are Don Ball, Wenatchee, and Jim Hanson, Vancouver.

Another of Irish's "good bets" is Dennie Ross of Ellensburg. A sophomore, Ross looked good on the courts at all times.

turning Lettermen Hurt Chances

"Our chances for placing in league competition are fair," Coach Irish said, before the season action started. "We're bound to win some and we'll lose some; but we'll feel good if we place third or fourth."

The squad's first three meets were played at Pacific Lutheran College, April 18; at the College of Puget Sound, April 19; and at Western Washington College of Education, April 20. Central's courts saw action April 25, when the Central fellows played a return match with Western; and again the 27th, when the Cats hosted Pacific Lutheran.

May 3 found the Wildcat netmen at Eastern Washington College, and on May 4, the Cats played at Whitworth.

The next three meets — May 8, May 11, and May 14 — were held on Central's courts against Whitworth, Eastern, and Seattle Pacific. The last meet was held at Seattle Pacific, May 18.

Cheney was the scene of the conference meet, May 24-25, where the top netmen from the Evergreen conference battled for honors.

Also included among the roster of fellows competing for spots on the team were D. and B. Smith.

Ken Sturm displays his ability of serving the felt covered ball over the net to whip an opponent.

Women's Intramurals

Among the trophies possessed by the Kamola Hall girls sits the championship trophy for the best group of volleyball players on campus. Following weekly matches fall quarter, the girls entered the finals full of determination and drive to capture the first-place honors.

Each Monday and Thursday night, eight teams assembled from 6:30 to 8:00 p.m. in the men's gym to enjoy a bit of recreation. Sponsored by the Women's Recreation Association, physical education and recreation majors and minors, as well as other students joined in to participate in the volleyball tournament as well as tournaments in other sports.

During volleyball season, Kamola Hall entered three teams in competition; Sue Lombard Hall, two teams; Munson Hall, two teams; and the Off-Campus Women, one team. The tournament matches were refereed by WRA members.

Sue Lombard's lone team walked away proudly holding the title of "Basketball Queens." The Sue Girls finished the season with the largest win record of the seven teams entered in the basketball competition.

Volleyball action at its best was available during fall quarter when the girls took to the courts with the volleyball and their mighty spiking techniques.

Row 1: K. Bainton, B. Crumppacker, J. Homer.
Row 2: H. Argus, M. Sweet, V. Welsh, M. Decker, C. Rutledge, D. Brown, O. McLean, S. Harris.

Are Interesting, Varied

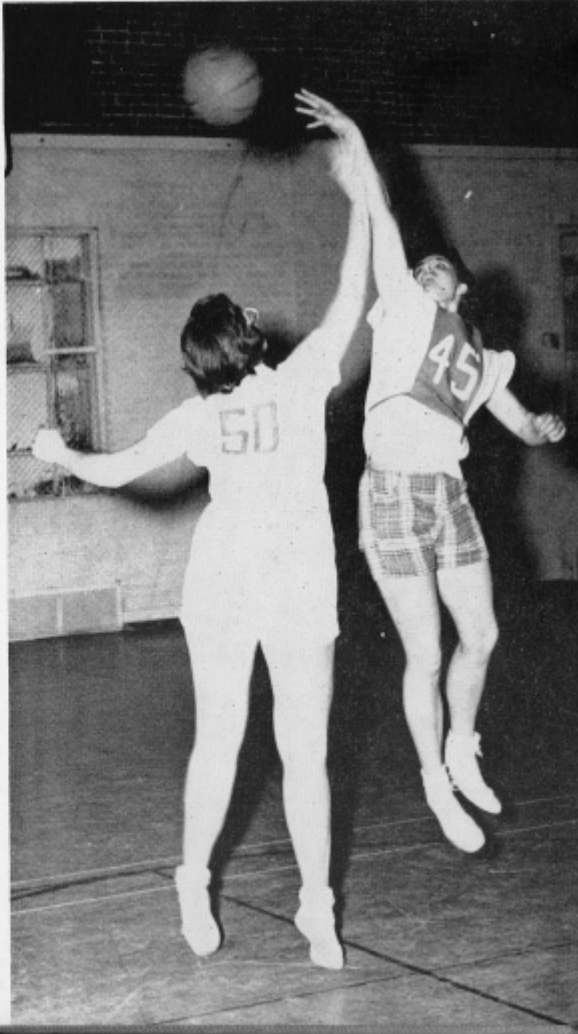

Kamola and Munson Halls each entered two teams in competition, while the Off-Campus Women came through with one team. To keep the women faculty members looking trim and neat, a faculty team composed of Bonnie Easton, Gaynell Johnsen, Alyce Cheska, Vera Badorek, Helen McCabe, Lorraine Flower, and Anne Coulston, was formed and entered in competition.

To test the gals' ability with the ping pong paddle and ball, double and single elimination matches were held spring quarter.

Birdies flew every-which-way when the gals took to the courts spring quarter in double and single badminton elimination tournaments.

Although softball tournaments were not held, the girls met twice weekly spring quarter to participate in this sport, displaying some outstanding catching, hitting, pitching, and running ability.

Vera Badorek, WRA adviser, worked very closely with the participating women. She was assisted by Anne Coulston, and the other physical education instructors.

Twice weekly sports-minded girls turned out for intramurals. Their jumping, rebounding, and shooting skill put many a fellow to shame.

MIA Provides Men

Sixteen teams began action in the Men's Intramural Athletics program October 15 as the flagball competition got under way. Various teams played each evening until a championship team was named.

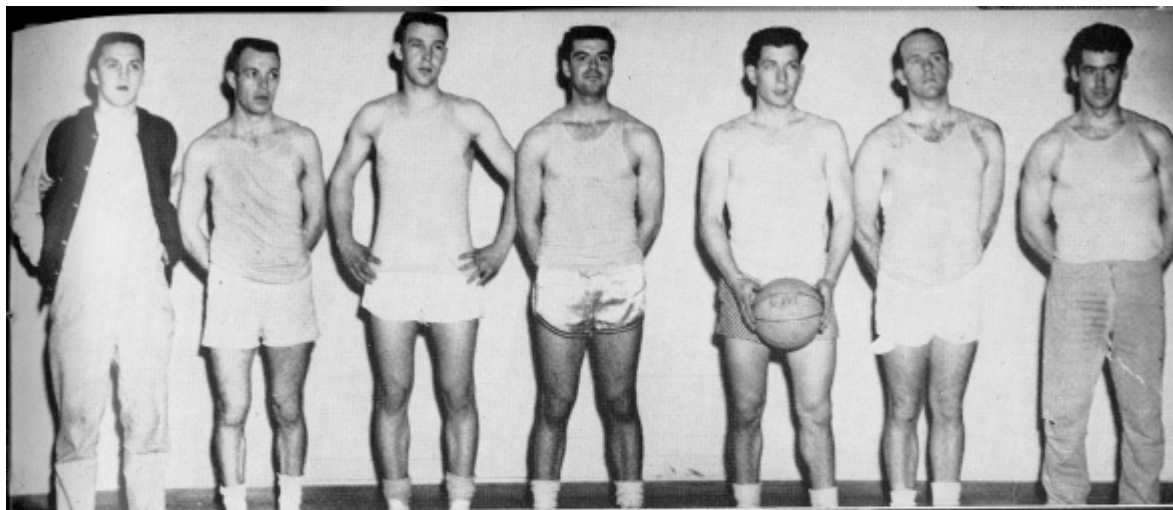

The Off-Campus IV men, captained by Stephen Dautrich, took first place honors by defeating the Wilson Hall III team, giving the Wilson fellows second spot in the standings. Off-Campus' record shows a total of nine wins against no losses.

The breakdown of teams shows that Off-Campus had five teams; Wilson and North, each three; and Kennedy, Munro, Montgomery, Carmody, and Alford, each one team.

One of the Off-Campus teams again came through at the end of the basketball season to snatch the top honors. Munro Hall settled for second place after bowing to the Off-Campus X team in the final game.

Thirty teams remained on hand throughout the season to compete each week. Three leagues were formed from these teams.

Approximately 30 teams representing the men's living groups competed each week in the men's intramural basketball sports tourney. Three leagues, the American, the National, and the International were represented in play.

The Off-Campus X team composed of G. Wood, G. Driessen, J. Heinricher, K. Edwards, R. Nicoli, E. Hardenbrook, and J. Baggett captured championship honors at the end of the season.

With Recreation

North Hall's team came out victorious during the volleyball competition, followed by Vetville's team, the Off-Campus IV team, and the Off-Campus I men. Volleyball competition meets were held the last few weeks of fall quarter.

In other MIA contests, Larry Sundholm combined his hands and his mind to win the chess playing championship. Jerry Ramsey finished second.

Loren Newkirk finished first, and Bob Dodge finished second in spectacular play at the pool tables.

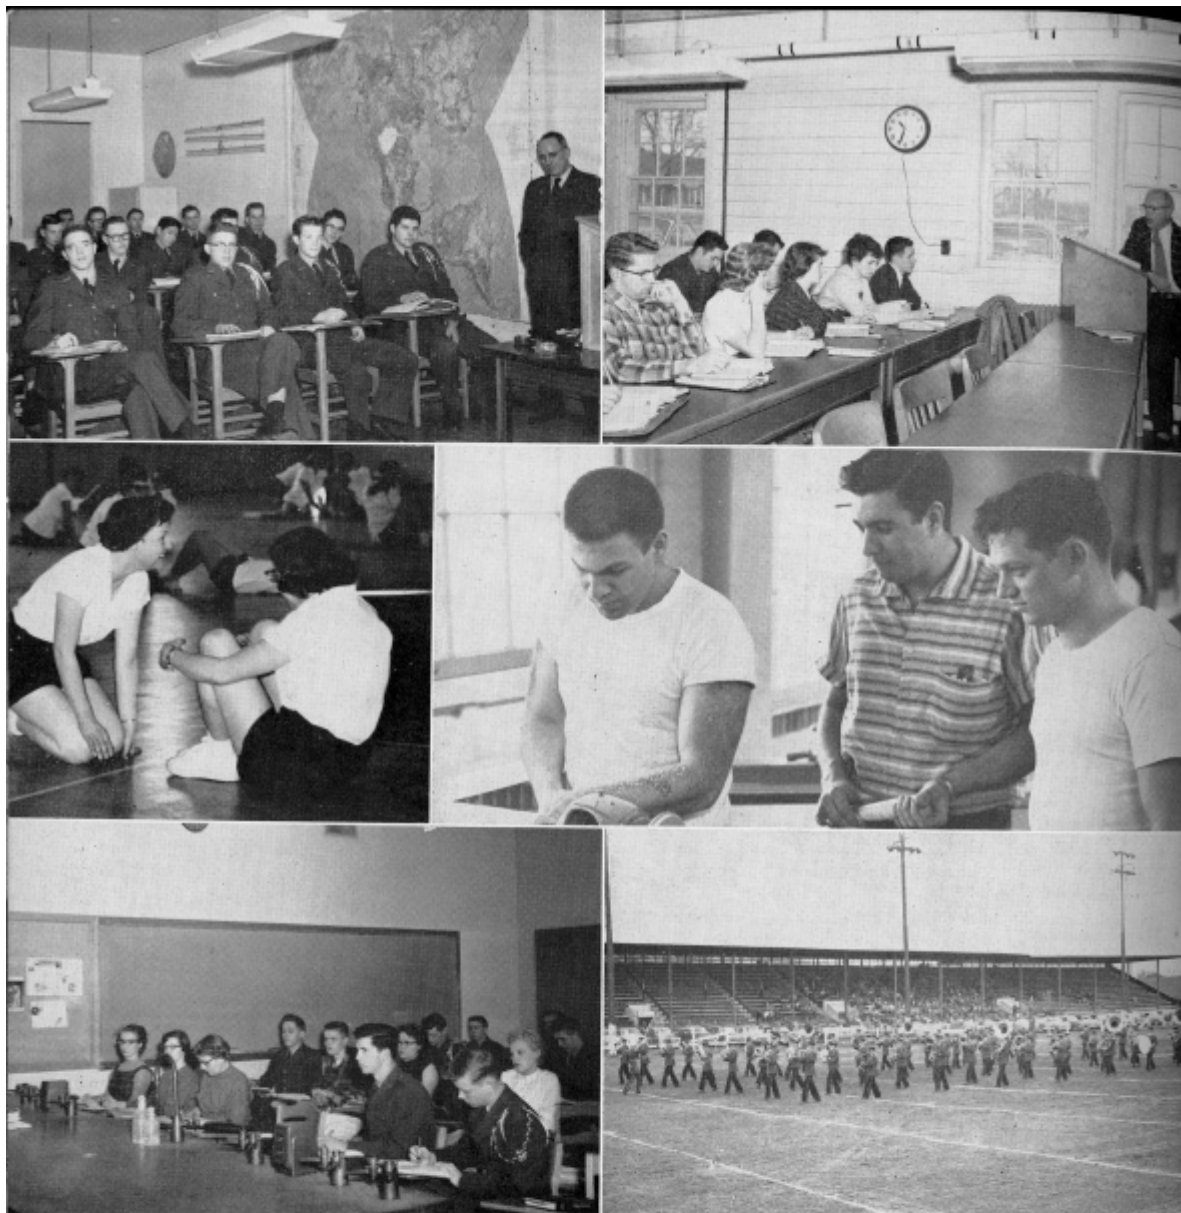

Ping Pong champions of Central are Bill Daniels, who walked away with first-place winnings, and Don Osborn who settled for second spot.

Softball action became the thing spring quarter when many teams went to the field — each trying for the championship and a good time.

Howard Schaub served as MIA director, being assisted by MIA representatives from each of the living groups. Referees were mainly physical education majors and minors.

One of Munro's teams bowed to the Off-Campus X group in the championship game. One of North's teams finished third and an Off-Campus team took fourth place honors.

Classrooms Are Overflowing With Students

All freshmen and sophomore boys are required to take six quarters of Air Science. Qualified Juniors and Seniors may elect the course.

Income Tax Accounting is just the class for students with lots of time, mathematical ability, and accounting interest.

Conditioning exercises during a basic skills class shortens the waist and reduces the hips for girls.

A popular class for fellows on campus is woodworking. Occasionally, a girl or two enters the class to display their talents.

Plenty of Dancing Offered Central Students

Wilson Hall started a new tradition by sponsoring the first pajama dance for couples only in the Men's Gym, January 18.

Fred Dahl gets crowned as Handsome Harry at the Alpha Phi Omega dance held February 16 during the Dad's Day Week-end.

Dr. and Mrs. Dean Stinson seem to be enjoying themselves at the Winter Wonderland Ball held in the CUB, January 11.

Hundreds of students turned out for the Wednesday night mixers held after dinner each week, sponsored by various organizations.

During International and Social dance classes many students are given an opportunity to learn how to dance better.

700 Students Eat in Dining Halls

The cooks arrive before the roosters are up some mornings, and work long days to provide students with their meals.

Many hands are required to prepare the sandwiches for approximately 700 students who eat in the dining halls daily.

Waiting for the long line at the Commons to diminish, these students socialize at the CUB.

All college students must learn to stand in lines and wait patiently, especially at meal times.

Meals Are Varied, Filling, and Tasty

Students can expect a variety of food planned by Miss Gaynell Johnsen, the dietitian, and her assistants, Miss Easton and Miss Wright.

Many students work behind the scenes at various jobs for 80c per hour.

Students finish filling their trays at a serve-yourself counter, where bread, butter, and relishes are provided.

Sitting over such delicacies as a tuna bunstead or tomato soup, students have an opportunity to get acquainted.

At the close of meals, students enjoy sitting and relaxing before taking their trays back to be cleaned.

Student Union—a Popular and Busy Place

Students eagerly await the day when the snow disappears from the ground and the warm spring sunshine returns.

The Union, a popular place with all students, receives many visitors who don't notice parking signs when visiting the campus.

Mrs. Young, a true companion and friend of every student, spends many hours serving and waiting on "her family."

From morning to night, seven days a week, the snack bar is a popular place for many students who visit the CUB.

Cats Win 19th Straight Victory

The first game of the season in baseball held March 30 found only a small group of students out to see Central win its 19th straight victory.

Clouds and a cold wind limited the crowd, but spirit and action was at its best as batter after batter came to and went from the plate.

Remo Nicoli, senior, displays his form used throughout the season as he helped lead the team to victory.

Carefulness and clear thinking of the team members is symbolic of the Central baseball men. To lose a man at first is dynamite — if it's a Central man.

A warm feeling of spirit, team cooperation, and opponent ribbing arise from the men on the bench waiting for their turn to bat or get into the game.
